SEELY QUILTS AGAIN AND ASQUITH TAKES THE WAR PORTFOLIO

Premier Resigns From House and Will Seek Re-Election.

French and Ewart Refuse to Return to Army Service.

Dramatic Scene Accompanies Announcements to Commons.

London, March 30.—Col. John Seely, secretary for war, resigned his portfolio in the British cabinet today and his resignation was accepted by the premier.

Premier Asquith himself decided to take the secretaryship of war in place of Col. Seely.

Lloyd George Sick.

David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, was taken ill at Waltham Cross, Essex, yesterday and he passed the week end playing golf. The chancellor, it was stated, was unable to participate in the critical discussion in the house of commons today on the resignation brought about by the resignation of an officer in the fleet. The debating power of Mr. Lloyd-George had been regarded as a great asset by the government.

Morley May Resign.

Field Marshal Sir John French, chief of staff, general staff of the British army, and Sir John Ewart, adjutant general to the forces, definitely resigned from the service today.

It was stated, was unable to participate in the critical discussion in the house of commons today on the resignation brought about by the resignation of an officer in the fleet. The debating power of Mr. Lloyd-George had been regarded as a great asset by the government.

Col. Seely's resignation has been accepted.

This was the emphatic expression of the British government in announcing in the house of commons today that his war secretary had paid the penalty of his indiscretions in the evidence document which paragraphs which have aroused such feelings as to threaten the existence of the government.

The first information received by members of parliament that Col. Seely had resigned came from the cabinet when he entered the house and took his seat on the back benches instead of among his little colleagues.

Cause of Resignation.

The paragraphs which caused the crisis were contained in a memorandum written by Gen. Hubert Gough and contained the following:

"The government must retain its right to use all the forces of the crown in Ireland, and must maintain order and support the civil power in the ordinary execution of their duty, and must not interfere in any way of taking advantage of this right in order to crush political opposition to the policy or the principles of the home rule party."

The later repudiation of these guarantees.

PEOPLE RAISE FUND TO DEFEND AMERICAN

New Orleans, La., March 30.—Dr. Benjamin R. Leigh, formerly of Jacksonville, Fla., facing charges of arson in La Ceiba, Honduras, has enlisted the sympathy of the people, who have raised $1,000 to defend him.

Leigh, it is declared, originated in the drugstore of which Dr. Leigh was manager. He was accused of having taken advantage of his position of taking advantage of this right in order to crush political opposition to the policy or the principles of the home rule party.

The later repudiation of these guarantees.

NORTHWEST RATES ON BEER SUSPENDED

Increases Range From 16 to 75 Per Cent Over

Old Charge.

Washington, March 30.—Advances in the freight rates on grain and other products varying from 16 per cent to approximately 75 per cent from La Crosse, Wis., St. Paul, Minn., and other points in the northwest, which were suspended yesterday, were suspended by the interstate commerce commission until July 30.

The Fitter Brewing company and other similar companies in Duluth involved in a protest made against the operation of the new rates, which were to have gone into effect last Friday. Protest from this point was made through the traffic commission of the Commercial club. In the meantime preparation will be made for another protest.

Representatives of organized labor were admitted to the session of the convention, which was adjourned yesterday.

Stryker was one of the best known Americans in Korea.

Some Prominent Speakers.

Samuel M. Hays, the New York attorney, will address the convention on "The Relation of Farmers to the Trust Questions." Charles R. Van Dorn, president of the University of Wisconsin, will speak on "The Relation of the Farmers' Co-operative Selling Organizations to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law." Rural credit systems and the standardization of market packages of farm products also will be discussed.

Other speakers will be Hatton W. Summers, congressman from Texas; T. N. Carver of the United States department of agriculture; and Grant Green of Cambridge, Mass.; R. A. Campbell, secretary of the Wisconsin board of public affairs; F. B. Curtis of Chicago; Frank J. Callahan, president of the National Agricultural Congress; and H. J. Waters, president of the Kansas Agricultural college.

David L. Lewis, professor of political economy at the University of Michigan, will speak on "The Economic Conditions of the Minnesota and Wisconsin." The University of the University of Wisconsin will give an address on "The Tenant Farmer and the Marketing Problem."

FARMERS MAY JOIN HANDS WITH UNIONS

Chicago, March 30.—Application of the Sherman anti-trust law to farmers organizations will be the principal topic for discussion at the second annual conference on marketing and marketing needs to be held in this city three days beginning April 14.

Representatives of organized labor were admitted to the session of the convention, which was adjourned yesterday.

TRY FIFTEEN FOR MURDER OF FEUDIST

Alleged Slayers of Ed Callahan Finally Face Court.

Winchester, Ky., March 30.—Another chapter in the history of Breathitt county trials began here today when a new term of the circuit court convened for the trial of fifteen men who are charged with the assassination of former State Ed Callahan of Breathitt county. Callahan was assassinated in 1912, and the cases of those accused have been dragging through the courts ever since.

Two men have already been convicted. These two have filed motions for new trials, and it is probable that a decision in the cases will be reached during the special term of the court.

Nearly all of the accused men are under 30 years of age. It is said that the evidence in the cases was gathered by Mrs. Lillian Gross, a daughter of Callahan.

SAVER OF FIFTY IS KILLED IN BRAWL

E. D. O'Donnell of Chicago Held on Murder Charge.

Chicago, March 30.—Edward D. O'Donnell, brother of Simon O'Donnell, president of the Chicago Building Association, surrendered to police yesterday and was booked on a charge of murdering Peter de Rock, a barmen who was credited with having saved more than fifty persons from drowning on lake ice.

De Rock was killed during a fight Saturday night in a saloon. Witnesses told the police O'Donnell, 35, shot the man while trying to talk to him.

O'Donnell refused to talk after his arrest. The police believe the prisoner will plead guilty.

CO. SEELY'S RESIGNATION.

The paragraphs which caused the crisis were contained in a memorandum written by Gen. Hubert Gough and contained the following:

DES MOINES ELECTION ON

Heaviest Vote in Years Is Predicted in That City.

Socialists Are Active in the Election at Burlington.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 30.—Voters were out early in the municipal election here, and by noon it was freely predicted in official circles that the largest total of ballots since the commission form of government became effective will have been cast when the polls close tonight. For the first time in the history of the city, the political parties, except the Socialists, were addressed yesterday by campaign orators.

The activity of women in connection with the proposition of municipal ownership of the water system was a distinct feature of the voting. Under the law, women are permitted the ballot on municipal issues. In several of the residence precincts women were in line when the polls opened at 7 o'clock.

Major J. R. Hanna, a candidate for re-election, has for his opponent Zell R. Roe, who, as police commissioner in 1912, when the water system was established, achieved considerable notice by refusing to permit policemen to man street cars operated by strikebreakers.

He is the candidate of the labor unions, a split on his candidacy having developed in labor ranks during the last week. The commissioners are also to be chosen.

SOCIALISTS ACTIVE.

Burlington, Iowa, March 30.—Socialists are making a bitter fight for supremacy in the city election today. There are a number of candidates to be chosen. There are three Socialist candidates on the ticket. The early vote is cloudy.

HEAVY VOTE AT SIOUX CITY.

Sioux City, Iowa, March 30.—Great interest is being taken in the city election today. A mayor and four councilmen will be chosen. The contest for the mayoralty between Mayor Frank Smith and Jonathan Brown, a former councilman, is the feature. The early vote was heavy.

KIRBY LEADS WITH 8 VOTES IN 131,112

Arkansas Senatorial Primary Is Not Yet Decided.

Little Rock, Ark., March 30.—Official reports of the county central committee, which will meet today to canvass the vote cast in the Democratic primary election of last Wednesday, are awaited to determine whether United States Senator James P. Clarke has been reelected or will be succeeded by William F. Kirby, attorney justice of the Arkansas supreme court.

With about 100 municipalities missing, the normal vote of which did not exceed 100, returns made officially give Mr. Kirby a lead of eight votes in 131,112 reported.

Official returns also will be required to determine the result of the congressional contests. In the Second district Representative W. A. Oldfield seems assured of his reelection, and in the Fourth district Representative Goodwin is well in the lead. In the Third, however, the race is close between the incumbent, Representative Eddie T. Thompson, former president of the University of Arkansas, and Claude Fuller, who was elected to the Senate by the legislature.

Reports indicate that the bill will be voted on at the opening of the session of the Legislature.

GEN. BELL WILL QUIT PHILIPPINES.

Washington, March 29.—Maj. Gen. J. Franklin Bell will turn over command of the Fifth Division to Maj. Gen. Harry April 15, and returning to the United States via Siberia and Europe, will have a month's leave of absence before taking up his new assignment as commander of the Central division.

With headquarters in Chicago, however, his stay in Chicago probably will be short, as he also has been assigned to command of the Second Division, with headquarters at Texas City.

The present plan is that Gen. Bell will relieve Brig. Gen. Funston as commander of the Second division, and Gen. Funston's future assignment will depend upon who is selected for chief of staff when Maj. Gen. Wood retires, April 22.

TWO SALOONS MAY CLOSE

Motel and Timlin Places Are in Disfavor With Hicken.

Commissioner W. A. Hicken, head of the safety division, will recommend to the city council this afternoon that a renewal of the saloon license of Alexander Motel, 419 West Michigan street, be refused. The license expires April 16. Motel has employed an attorney to appear before the council to argue that his application be granted, failing which he may renew his past history. It is improbable that any plea, no matter how fervent, will be well received by the commissioners, who are to meet the Motel saloon will be the next to go into the discard.

The same commissioner has had an investigation made of the Motel place, and it is not such that it is an argument in his favor.

The application of M. R. Timlin for a renewal of his license at 306 Central avenue, which expires April 22, is due to come up today, but owing to fact that it is the attorney of A. E. McNamee, engaged in a district court in the Gran divorce case, action will probably be postponed for a week. Commissioner Hicken will recommend that this application also be refused, the odds are that the Timlin saloon will follow Motel's example.

The question of letting an exclusive contract for the collection of garbage and the application of the law known as the "garbage ordinance" to the city cedes its rights to 126 feet of Minnesota avenue where it abuts the Lake avenue slip, which will be the site of the new bridge, may come up again at this afternoon's meeting.

The ordinance prohibiting employment of women on West Michigan street between Fourth and Fifth avenues may be introduced today. This is part of Commissioner Hicken's plan for improving the appearance of the city's gateway.

The twelve ordinances governing manufacturing licenses, being consolidations and revisions of old ordinances, will be given their third reading and passed.

RUNAWAY BOY HELD BY POLICE

Because his mother became angry at him and told him to leave the house, Leonard Johnson, 14 years old, took the declaration literally and left his home at Chisholm Saturday noon to make his own way in the world. He got as far as Duluth and now he is at the police station awaiting the arrival of a Chisholm officer, who is expected here this afternoon and who will take the runaway boy back to the village.

Before leaving his home, Leonard sold his three pet rabbits for $1.50 and with proceeds of $1.00 and 60 cents plus the bus fare used up, he had only 50 cents left. He bought a half fare ticket to Duluth for $1.50.

About 6 o'clock Saturday evening Patrolman Andrew Leonard was walking aimlessly about the station and suspecting something wrong, he questioned the boy and learned that the latter had run away from home and now had taken Leonard to police headquarters, and he is being held there pending the arrival of the Chisholm officer.

The morning Leonard was in a talkative mood and he told how his mother had ordered him out of the house. The boy had offended her by misbehaving and taking things carelessly, left the house "to sober up." He says he now realizes his mistake and is ready to go back. The boy's father is in South Dakota.

MUST AWAIT THEIR TURN

Twenty-three Tubercular Patients on Sanitarium Waiting List.

The visiting nurses of the health department for the past twelve years on the waiting list of those desiring admittance to sanitariums.

Every institution for handling tuberculosis is crowded to capacity, and new cases can be received only as some one is discharged.

Miss Schenck and Miss Keay, who are the visiting nurses on the waiting list which Duluth has ever had, not because the disease is more prevalent, but that more cases are being discovered, show that the educational campaign which is being conducted is having positive results, and that the public generally is beginning to realize the importance of early diagnosis and proper treatment. Those on the waiting list are not in advanced stages. The examinations are made as far as possible to determine as to what causes cataract, blindness, sore and inflamed eyes, headaches, dizziness, black and floating spots, nervousness, etc., through the use of the ophthalmoscope, and the results are known to the nurses whose time with each is necessarily limited, as they have many calls to make each day.

DR. HUGHES relieves all eyestrain that causes cataract, blindness, sore and inflamed eyes, headaches, dizziness, black and floating spots, nervousness, etc., through the use of the ophthalmoscope. All cases thoroughly examined under Bugbee's Skiascopy, revealing the ligaments of the eye, the optic nerve, the retina and diseased or abnormal condition of the eyes. (Glasses made that will fit.) New lenses put in and old ones replaced from pieces given by mail. A complete record kept of each case, and a certificate and number given with every pair of glasses fitted. Artificial Eyes. Special attention to relief of pressure on the vital nerve and brain centers caused from uncorrected eyestrain and the wearing of poorly fitted glasses will relieve these conditions.

VICTIM OF ALCOHOLISM.

Finding of Jury that Investigated Grand Forks Death.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 30.—"Death due to acute alcoholism" was the verdict returned by the coroner's jury which investigated the death of J. O'Neill, about 50 years of age, whose lifeless body was found in bed in a room above the Schave restaurant on De Mers avenue Saturday morning.

In the pockets of the man were found a ticket from Bemidji and also a cash fare ticket indicating that he had paid his fare home before finding his death. An abstract to two lots in Willard's addition to the city was also found, as well as a canceled note, once held by the Northwestern Trust com-

FORMER MANKATOAN KICKED TO DEATH.

Ray, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald)—Louis Whitrock, formerly of Mankato, Minn., whence he came here ten years ago, was kicked to death by his son, Mr. Wm. Whitrock, who had just arrived in town, and was unchaining the animal when it let go with both hind feet, hitting him full in the abdomen.

The body has been shipped to Mankato for burial.

BEGINS WEEK'S REVIVAL SERIES

Rev. George Silloway Holding Services at Grace Methodist Church.

Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, Twenty-second avenue west, Third street, last evening began a week's series of Lenten revival services. The pastor spoke on "Growth Through Failure," taking the text from Acts 17:30; "God Commandeth All Men Everywhere to Repent." Six men made also furnish the choir under the leadership of Mrs. David Adams.

Rev. Mr. Silloway said his part.

"There are many surprises in store for anyone who goes back to his childhood home after fifteen or twenty years absence and meets his playmates of old. You will find, I daresay, some one who was at the foot of the ladder and scarcely noticed as a boy, in a position of highest honor. He may find the one he left childhood with most promising, today a dissolute wreck and a complete failure in the sight of God and man."

"What has been the cause of the unexpected shifting of places? Just this: one has been growing, the other has been going backward. No man can stand still. We must either be growing better or worse. The fact of utmost importance in every life is not where you stand, but which way it is going, up or down on the ladder of life. There is one attitude of mind that is absolutely essential to progress. It is the attitude of always failing. It is only as we feel we have come short of what we might have been that there is hope of improvement in the future. That is the philosophy of repentance."

"The building of the Panama canal is a task, but a far easier task is yours, just the living of your life. In the task of living this one brief life, do you feel you have failed? Has your past brought with it pain? If you feel it has, and deeply regret it, the future holds hope for you. Repentance that God commands is not a turning away from God, but sin itself, but a turning from sin themselves. Then it is only a short step from a repented consciousness of past failure to all the peace and joy of the Christian experience; for we are told that there are no sins that the infinite mercy of God cannot cover."

Mr. Silloway will preach tonight on the subject, "Can a Man Know That He Is Saved?"

RELIGION IN NORWAY HIS THEME

Rev. Nils Bolt Will Give an Illustrated Lecture Here.

Rev. Nils Bolt of Norway, who is in this country for the purpose of studying young people's religious work as carried out in the churches and among the young people's societies, will speak this evening at the First Norwegian-Danish Methodist church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. Rev. Mr. Holt will give an illustrated talk on religious work in Norway.

Rev. Mr. Bolt has been in the United States since the spring of fall. He has a short course in English at the Northwestern university at Evanston, Ill., and before returning to his native land will speak to the Norwegian and settled Norwegian communities in order to pursue further his studies.

Rev. Mr. Holt will be away in the Norwegian language.

SHORT COURSE FOR FARMERS

Improved methods in farming will be the subject of a three-day course to be given at the Hermantown Woodmen hall to the farmers of Hermantown by experts and agricultural experiment station stations beginning tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The courses will be held under the auspices of the Farmers and Producers Club of Hermantown.

There will be three sessions each day, morning and noon and night. Lectures on milk testing, measurements of cows, breeds of beef and dairy cows, clearing of land, draining, fertilizing, seed raising, irrigation, as well as many other subjects of interest to the farming community, will be discussed and explained.

An effort has been made to allow the older children of the Washington, Goshen and Five Corners schools to attend the two-day course. It is expected that every farmer in the community will attend all of the sessions. A committee headed by S. L. Larson, president of the club, and P. Grady, its secretary, have been in charge of preparing the program for the three days.

ENTERTAIN PARTICIPANTS.

DANES REFUSE TO RATIFY TREATY.

Copenhagen, March 30.—The Danish senate has refused to ratify the arbitration and arbitration treaty between the United States and the United States. The old treaty expires tomorrow.

Surprise to Washington.

Washington, March 30.—The refusal of the Danish senate to approve the arbitration and arbitration treaty by officials, although no comment was forthcoming in advance of formal notice of the action by the secretary of state to be rejected by the United States senate because of the consistent attitude of the senate against all general arbitration treaties which did not expressly except from compulsory arbitration questions involving the national defense matters of state legislation and affecting the Monroe doctrine, had been deemed a possibility.

The action of the Danish senate was a surprise to the secretary of state, as stated on the authority of Secretary Bryan himself, this treaty was to do more to secure the government of Denmark, which had made a similar treaty with Italy. The treaty was published.

SENATE INCREASES ARMY APPROPRIATION

Washington, March 30.—The senate passed the annual army appropriation bill carrying $101,750,000, about $7,500,000 more than the house bill and about the same amount over the last army appropriation bill.

FAITH, CHIEF AIM OF CHURCH

Beliefs of Man Must Develop as Life Progresses, Says Dr. Sayles.

Says Faith in God Is Necessary to Secure Forgiveness.

That the development and creation of faith is the main end and function of the church and is essential in life was the gist of the sermon preached yesterday morning by Rev. R. Edward Sayles, pastor of the First Baptist church. His subject was "The Nature and Function of Faith." His sermon in part follows:

"Christian faith is the attitude of trust in God, self-committment. It has its basis in love, as we have seen from one angle. From another angle it has the element of venture. In its essence it is a belief that man can go on seeking this emotion they sink lower and lower until they get to the very lowest rung of the scale. Right living and likeness to God are the divine things and through them the Divine Emancipator saves you."

the rest of it come. Some reject Christ, saying that they are seeking only happiness. They do not stop to think that here is a God who loves us and that as they go on seeking this emotion they sink lower and lower until they get to the very lowest rung of the scale. Right living and likeness to God are the divine things and through them the Divine Emancipator saves you."

WOULD LIVE FOR OTHERS

Unselfish Effort Secures Greatest Reward, Says Dr. Gebauer.

Urge Congregation to Lose Sight of Self in World Work.

Dr. George R. Gebauer, pastor of the First Unitarian church, made a plea for unselfish living in his sermon yesterday morning, declaring that the only way to live a worthy life was to work for others and lose sight of self. His subject was "Light Bearers." His sermon in part follows:

"There are not a few people in the world who are so entirely wrapped up in themselves that they cannot get out. They are light holders, but not light givers. The lamp of their being is overlaid with the lamp of selfishness and ambition; all there is seen is a dim ray of divine light. We meet constantly with such hard-working people, who are lightning of any one, who is not hustling. They tell us of their success, and we can only attribute it to their hard work and diligence. But when we begin to think of the motives that actuate their endeavor, we find all the self-committement, self-committment, self-regard. And on the other side are some men and women, who think not so much of themselves as of others, not of self-interest, but of principles and ideals, great truths, great thoughts. They are the true light givers, and as such fulfill their real mission."

Selish Can't Succeed.

"And in thus living for what is not self, but higher and truer joy for the individual. Indeed in any higher sense the selfish man cannot succeed. We only attain to real success when we lose sight of all mere self-committement, self-regard. And on the other side are some men and women, who think not so much of themselves as of others, not of self-interest, but of principles and ideals, great truths, great thoughts. They are the true light givers, and as such fulfill their real mission."

Jesus Is the Pattern.

"Jesus is the pattern of the Christian life, the pattern of the life of faith he practiced. He had a confidence in God, he committed his life to God even in the Garden. He went to God in his household. Sometimes such a faith is kept at great sacrifice. To keep such means that while growing in the body, the soul must be born again in religious life. A childhood faith is beautiful in a child but it is a dwarfed and stunted life if it is not developed and strengthened. A man's life and experience and knowledge in a real life will result in a chastened, deepened, enriched faith."

Faith is God's gift to man in human life. All of life is healthier, the mental and moral physical. "He that does not believe, God is not mocked. For whatever a man sows, that shall also reap" is true on the right side of life as well as on the wrong side. Faith in God saves the fear of God. It is creative. "Believe and you shall be right, for you shall save yourself; doubt and you shall be right for yourself. This is the way to come in that you believe is greatly to your advantage." (James) Faith freed a man's inner man with all its marvelous works.

A man's life and experience and knowledge in a real life will result in a chastened, deepened, enriched faith."

Faith is God's gift to man in human life. All of life is healthier, the mental and moral physical. "He that does not believe, God is not mocked. For whatever a man sows, that shall also reap" is true on the right side of life as well as on the wrong side. Faith in God saves the fear of God. It is creative. "Believe and you shall be right, for you shall save yourself; doubt and you shall be right for yourself. This is the way to come in that you believe is greatly to your advantage." (James) Faith freed a man's inner man with all its marvelous works.

NEW MILLINERY SMALL AND PICTURESQUE

women who will declare that small shapes are not becoming to the body, this year, their number is decidedly less, for there is an infinite variety of small shapes, a type of hat for every type of woman.

Piquancy and pertness are the characteristics of the little hat as it is now made that seem vastly more interesting than the round, flat, with her innumerable activities, than the old, helpless, wide-eyed, floppy headdress.

THE STYLISH L'ARE IS SAFE AND SHAPED

Some brims would be wide if they did not flare, but they do flare, for that is about the most fashionable thing in hats. Away goes to one side they go, straight into the air, flat against the crown, the opposite side curved by the side of the head, so hardly noticed at all if it were not quite decidedly into one eye.

Hats must have to be fashionable, and the little hat is the one that is doing its best to be. It is the shape that, thank goodness, does not occupy a third of the space, yet into which it fits. In the days of picturesqueness and becomingness.

Of course there are always some women who will declare that small shapes are not becoming to the body, this year, their number is decidedly less, for there is an infinite variety of small shapes, a type of hat for every type of woman.

ENTER JET AND RIBBON.

The sparkle of jet is substituting for the halo of hats that are seen throughout the season, endangering the usually safe position of his ears and nose. So let us say: "Long live the little hat, that is a matter of personal taste, or of personal becomingness. It may be at one side, toward the back, or toward front or directly in the back; or if it happens to suit your peculiar style best directly in the front, by all means have it there."

SIMPLY TRIMMINGS FOR SMALL SHAPES

Of course with the shapes about as small as they can manage to be, we have to follow consistently in the matter of trimmings and have them correspondingly small, too.

The big advantage in a conspicuous place, if one were to pronounce any mode the favorite for this season, the lot would probably fall to the ribbons and ribbons of hats. Over in Paris they are making whale-hats of narrow ribbon, and all the edges lapped back.

Wider ribbons serve the same purpose.

Ruffled and draped toques are made from the sort of hats that have the name of the sort being called the cock's comb in Paris, from the manner in which the trimming is plaited back over the middle of the shape.

Of all the substitutes for feathers, ostrich is the smartest, the most satisfactory. It is a turban chit in the shape of a spring and summer millinery, by means of a wire frame stiffened with wire, covered with love taffeta—say, the same that you have in your pretty afternoon frock, with a bunch of flowers set snuggling in the skirt. The skirt suggests the flowers in the print. Could anything be more alluring?

Again, if the narrowness of the brim will leave the forests full of birds.

A HAND-MADE SEASON ENCOURAGEMENT

A thing of beauty and a joy forever is the fabric hat—that is, the hat that is the fabric hat.

It is the fabric hat that has made beauty and more joyous in this season than ever before with the materials so altogether lovely. Taffeta has been having things all to itself with a more exclusive. But as pretty a method as any is to make the hat of the same material as the frock, especially if it is in the best.

This is the "all-to-match" idea. For this purpose the seasonable crepes are perhaps the best, the Egyptian crepes, soft, Orientals, and many crepes, plain and in modern art colorings.

The crown of your straw or top of the brim may be covered or your silk, or you may have the jaunty sort of a spring and summer millinery, by means of a wire frame stiffened with wire, covered with love taffeta—say, the same that you have in your pretty afternoon frock, with a bunch of flowers set snuggling in the skirt. The skirt suggests the flowers in the print. Could anything be more alluring?

It is in this sort of hat that the home milliner has her innings, the wire frame, the piece of silk that is left over, the ends of ribbons and all two before the mirror—her purse has not suffered the usual depletion and her wardrobe is the better off for a few choice acquisitions.

Not the least of the material hats is the lingerie affair which is to have its innings again this summer. This, too, is made to match the dress. Fine effects are given to the round, rounded backs, parasols, and what better than the machine-embroidery flourishes? All-over embroideries, as well as lining, are lined and go into plainly covered sun hats, touched with a bit of feather trimming.

THE FORE AND AFT HAT.

The hat with the trimming in front, exactly covered in the back, is one of the smartest sorts of the season, especially when the perky little fancy sticks are tucked away in the back of the red printed silk that is shirred about the crown. A bit of darker red velvet in stems and over the side gives the topper hat that is girlish in the last degree.

AN ODD FEATHER FANCY IN FRONT.

Small of size, the odd feather in front, the one that is in fashion this year, is the one natural colored hemp with a rich shade of taupe in the trimmings.

More of them, not the feathers, ribbons, fancy stands up directly in the back of the skirt. The skirt suggests the flowers in the print. Could anything be more alluring?

WHEN FLOWERS ARE USED.

Little bunches of real violets are cast in the back and front of the leghorn hat, following the mood of the more pretentious feather and lace hats. The flowers are tucked in the red printed silk that is shirred about the crown. A bit of darker red velvet in stems and over the side gives the topper hat that is girlish in the last degree.

HAT, VEIL AND COLLAR.

A pretty hat will serve the very first uses in the warm season in this one of white Milan, demurely set with a summer wreath of Bermuda palms and a band of purple coral velvet. The veil that will soften the wooling of the summer wind is just sheer mesh, you find, and is gathered at the bottom and fitted with snap fasteners for handy fastening. A collar of exquisitely patterned machine embroidery is in keeping with the mode and the millinery.

DULUTH WOMAN WHO HAD CHARGE OF STUDENTS' VAUDEVILLE PROGRAM

MRS. STEPHEN H. JONES.

Mrs. Jones had charge of the students' vaudeville program given Saturday afternoon by the Matinee Musicals.

Mr. Jones has time from his extensive grain business to do much for the musical interests of Duluth, and was one of the so-called "Trinity," consisting of himself, T. W. Hugo and the late Horace Reyner.

Folk Dances.

Children from Duluth school, under the direction of Miss Nellie Stoughton, gave three folk dances; a Danish "Dance of Greeting," a Danish "Sheoing" and a "Widow's Kindness" and a Russian "Snow Storm" dance. They put all the enthusiasm into their dancing that peasants of the people are expected to give at a merry-making. The children who took part in the dances were Louise Tracy, Dorothy Koenig, Margaret McDonald, Ethel Silver, Lucile Bayha, Ruth Anderson, Dorothy Merritt, Margaret Connell, Dorothy Newell, Margaret Crampton, Dorothy Newell, Mrs. Lorraine Nordquist, Gertrude Garber, Sylvia Lounsbury, Sarah MacPherson, Maxine Carson, James McLean, Charles L. Ligon, Charles Britts, Harold Purnell, John Wille, Leslie Hemmenway, Robert Arnold, George Johnson, William Ferguson, William Neppenius, Helmer Monsen, Teddy Boesen, Ralph White and Wayne White.

"Sunbeam" Cloe was given by Helen Christensen, Virginia Fryberger, Mary Towne, McMillan, William Marie and Margaret McMillan. They were followed by Miss Berta Schmid, being pupils of Miss Wilson's private school.

Four sunbonnets and "Jimmies" carried out the scheme of country dress.

Prof. Leo's pupils contributed one of the most enjoyable numbers, dressed in costumes that looked like little bisque statuettes that had stepped out of a cabinet for a dignified debut. The six children who took part could have been asked of the most polished gentleman of the period and the lady managed her train in a way that would be envied by the women.

Dutch Illustration.

Gertrude Collins and William Magic danced the Dutch in "Suzanne." They danced as if they had stepped off a Dutch place card. They greeted the audience with "Hello" and then began the version of the hesitation that was a "scream."

Miss Patna Watson, in Turkish costume, a Turkish favorite that brought out her gracefulness.

Louis Gomberg, the "Little Mozart," was dressed in a pink suit and white shirt. He played Mozart's "Sonata in C" and a violin solo by Schindler. His small hands and fingers moved with great promise of what they will do when they are full size.

Miss Charlene Bagley gave two dances that had been composed for her by Miss Berta Schmid, "The Joy of Living" to the music of Charles Karras and "The Breath of Spring." Her Grecian costume and light movements made her look like a character of Hellenic beauty.

The girls took turns in the beauty of the tower brought grand opera night to the stage of the Masonic temple.

Opera.

The business lower scene from "Il Trovatore" was one of the most laughable parts of the entertainment. Mrs. Irene Menke of 110 North Twenty-seventh avenue west entertained Saturday afternoon in honor of the birthday of her daughter, Ardelle. Games were played and a luncheon served. There were twelve guests.

Trinity Guild.

The Trinity guild will meet tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Easter Dinner.

The St. James' Junior guild will give a dinner and program at the St. James' orangery Easter Sunday.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Woman Will Advance Beyond Mark She Has Set.

There is much conjecture as to the future woman. What will she become, what may she not turn her hand to, and what may she not decide to ignore that she has heretofore accepted and endured as her destiny fate or duty?

Only time will tell. Yet there are questions that come to the minds of those who are in the same conditions existing among women today with those that prevailed twenty years ago. What progress, what advancement has been made since then? But the world has not stopped, and she will follow many paths before she finds the right one and she will be retarded almost every juncture. All kinds of obstacles will be put in her way, but eventually she will manage to beat them, because she will be able to fulfill it than before, because she will have made conditions favorable.

The woman of the future will be a real woman. That is what all girls desire, and when she reaches that point all will be made clear. She will be found at her post mothering the race. Instead of distaining it on one side and approaching it half-way, she will be found to be more than ever, so many years ago. Today, she will recognize in the greatest career for women. To it she will give all her heart and great thought and effort.

over. I find they are a part of the struggle to find the better way.

She who believes that woman has been fairly dealt with, has had consideration and all rightful privileges since the beginning, will not be interested to pursue this. This will be but a waste of time on their part and of effort on mine. Some cannot be convinced that there is any excuse for the action of the present day.

Such as do see a glimmer of reason for all that she has done and much that she could do, let me say, she will fulfill their expectations. She will do more before she will find herself. I expect in my lifetime to receive many a shock through the paths that previously had not dreamed possible. She will follow many paths before she finds the right one and she will be retarded almost every juncture. All kinds of obstacles will be put in her way, but eventually she will manage to beat them, because she will be able to fulfill it than before, because she will have made conditions favorable.

Duluth's shop windows in all their splendor and beauty mirror the season's correct styles for women, displaying some of the most extreme gowns for midday's wear the coming spring and summer, as well as the most conservative styles.

First of all, there are the trouserette gowns, which are a close copy of men's apparel since the reign of the French emperor, his little stockings of the days of "the father of our country." Of course, there is the regular skirt, but the trousers are exactly like those worn by the male sex and are a pair of pants. There are the upturned cuffs, and the trouser is seen through the slit of the skirt, which is made somewhat longer and wider this season.

Looking through the shop windows, the naturally draws the conclusion that the clothing is more resemble the fashions of Colonial days and of the Civil war times more than any other time. There are the large wide blouses, ruffles gathered at the waist, and long sleeves of probably remembered by many of the older residents of Duluth.

This is apparently the season of suits sans everything else. Woman is to wear very little underneath her outer dress, and the blouse is to be as tight as possible, and will cling more to the body than heretofore. The bloomers come down to the ankles and are to be tucked in with the stockings.

Some very beautiful gowns and blouses are to be seen in the windows and are in almost all imaginable colors. Green is an extremely popular color. The "messy-wilow" taffeta is the novelty this season and seems to be exceedingly popular with fashionable girls.

Floral designs seem to be the rage, and those are seen in almost every gown shown. The suits are plain colored or checkered, the latter having a touch of color.

Local department stores have gone to the expense in arranging their display windows, which are verily boxes of beauty and loveliness. They are tastefully arranged, catch the eye and are most creditable to the local stores.

Naval Militia Gets Behind Plan for Midsummer Festival.

Effort Will Be Made to Hold Naval Maneuvers Here.

Still another Duluth organization has come out for the proposed mid-summer festival to be staged in 1915. This makes twenty-five in all.

This time it is the naval militia, which, like the department of availability for service, is one of the most important organizations on the list. This announcement is made doubly important by the plan of Committee Guy Asquith to make all possible effort to secure for Duluth in 1915 the annual summer naval maneuvers, which so far have never been held here.

The naval committee provided the festival committee desires them.

The summer naval maneuvers together with the naval militia would play in the festival, would it, if well planned, prove a valuable feature and would help direct the attention of the world to the city of Duluth. The summer maneuvers of the naval militia are each year a feature that attracts sightseers. With this in view, staged as part of the festival it would no doubt be staged on a much larger scale and with other naval features to induce them to change their minds. Their resignations were made definite today.

Premier Asquith's further announcement that he himself would take up the portfolio of secretary for war came as a rebuff to Field Marshal Sir John French, who had been selected by the army, and Adj. Gen. Ewart, the adjutant general to the forces. The two generals immediately resigned and returned to Paris.

all the opponents of the repeal felt that was but such color had been injected into the controversy and he did not understand the motives for it.

Senator Kern, the Democratic leader, told the president that while the debate would be longer than all first had been expected, the question would be easily settled.

Representative Montague, Democrat, of Virginia, supported the repeal bill.

The president said: "I am told that the House later authorized quotations of what the president had said in answer to the charge that the president had made a deal with Sir William Tyrrell, private secretary to the British foreign secretary.

"This is not a matter of party politics," said the president. "It ought to be sufficient to remind them that they have declared against monopolies."

THAT GARBAGE COLLECTION PROPOSAL.

It has become very manifest that there is a good deal of opposition to the plan of turning the city's garbage collection over to a corporation.

Nor is confined to the many Duluth citizens who now make their livings by collecting garbage.

The general sentiment seems to be that until the city gets ready to take this work over itself, the present system is satisfactory.

One point in The Herald's Friday discussion of the proposition it did not bring out strongly enough. That is that the proposed system would be non-competitive and monopolistic. That's always a dangerous condition to invite.

As it is now, if our "garbage man" does not satisfy us, we can get another. Competition is eager and effective.

Under the proposed plan, if our "garbage man" did not satisfy us, we could not get another. There would be no other to get. Unless we could get the city government to turn aside from the many important things that command its attention and give heed to our little garbage troubles, we would be helpless. We might as well go down and tell it to the winds that sigh over the lake as to plead with a corporation with a monopoly.

City officials approving the plan say it would save the city treasury seven thousand dollars a year, and that it would also save money to home-owners. The latter point is far from demonstrated; as the News Tribune said Saturday the price for handling ashes is higher than the present rates.

Yet presumably the corporation that seeks this monopoly expects to make money out of it—probably a good deal of money, or it would not be so anxious to land the franchise.

That money must come somehow out of the public. We hear of no garbage men getting rich under present conditions; and how a corporation can come in and make good money at lower rates is not made clear at all.

And if money is to be made out of this, why shouldn't the city make it? That is, save it to the home-owners, which is the same thing or better.

Even if the deal were a good one to go into, the city should not put its own garbage men out of business and turn this important work over to a corporation without knowing beyond question that it is financially responsible; and so far as any public disclosures are concerned that is something nobody knows anything about.

Time to lay your last bets for the year on the lion and lamb handicap.

ONE PROJECT ABANDONED.

The one item in the president's program of corporation control and business stability that at first blust seemed the most simple, the most desirable and the easiest to attain, has turned out to be the most complex, the least desirable and the hardest to bring about.

This is the plan of defining what acts should be held illegal and against public policy, so that corporations, avoiding these, might move freely in unbroken fields.

It was demanded by the trusts themselves—pledged for earnestly and prayerfully.

And now it has been abandoned, and its death reveals no mourners.

For like many other apparently simple things, it proved to be far less simple than its seeming. A bill carrying out the plan was duly framed and duly considered. Its consideration was brief. It was quickly found to be a veritable cheval-de-frise—barbed and dangerous.

While its provisions clearly forbade greedy corporations doing things tending to kill competition and create monopoly, there was hardly a single one of these provisions which did not also forbid, under equally severe penalties, things which many of the most innocent corporations do—and have to do—every day of their lives without a thought of any purpose to kill competition and create monopoly.

Indeed, so inextricable were the

War's Tasks Not All On the Firing Line

From the diary of George Albert Schreiber, captain of artillery in the Boer Army during the South African War, published in Adventure.

The commandant of my artillery unit was attached during the retreat from the Tugela river early in March, 1900, to be presented with colors.

The good women of the district had turned out a work of art, a committee of mothers and wives, and a past master of life, was to present the flag to the commander, with appropriate speeches and prayers.

"You know that the two De Reys were shot yesterday," said the very corpulent chief of his detachment. Father and Mother De la Rey got off the wagon that had conveyed the presentation committee to the laager.

"You know the family well, don't you?"

"Yes, I do," I replied, anxious to divert a sad mission.

"Well, it'll be up to you to break the news to them."

Before I knew what had happened, the very corpulent had walked off. Old man De la Rey turned to me, shouted, "Hallo," and made a dash through the crowd and began to pummehand his arms.

"Glad to see you," he shouted. "My how you have tanned up! Where are my boys?"

I don't remember under what pretext I finally induced old De la Rey to leave the tent, but if I am not mistaken, I offered to introduce him to some of the women.

"The De Reys are not quite got no further than the fire, some thirty paces from the tent, when I made up my mind to break the news to him."

First I sent Sixpence, a Kaffir, who did the chores for my mess, to get some water. He wanted to lead him out of the way. On the veldt white men do not permit blacks to see their emotions.

"Well, uncle," I said after the Kaffir had gone. "I have bad news to tell you. You had stayed at home you would have heard it before now."

Two gray and piercing eyes looked into mine with disconcerting steadiness.

"What is it?" said the old man, no louder than a breath.

"Philip and Erasmus were killed yesterday," I blurted out.

"Killed yesterday?" echoed the old man. "Killed? Are they dead? You don't mean that I have lost two of my sons—Philip and Erasmus?" Philip and Erasmus were.

"Henry is alive, however," I said consolingly.

I grabbed the old man's shoulder just in time. Had I not done so he would have fallen into the fire. But the next moment he had regained his composure.

I remembered that there was something I wanted to say, but for the life of me I could not find the words. For a few moments the old man gazed in vain, trying hard to realize the full extent of the blow that had fallen upon him, and trying harder to gain control of his feelings. Big tears were running down his cheeks and over his gray beard.

"Well, well," he said finally, as he passed his coat sleeves over his eyes to shield them from the awkward movements.

But again and again he wiped his eyes with his sleeves, each time of his coat. Two tears would come, no matter how he tried to stem them. There was that peculiar pucker about his lips that men show when something bugs roughly at the heartstrings.

"Philip and Erasmus," he moaned once or twice. "My boys, my boys!"

With much patting on the shoulder and consoling terms—a veritable flood of them—I finally succeeded in bringing old De la Rey to approximately his usual self.

"Who is to tell my wife?" he asked helplessly, when it had dawned upon him that he would have to share his burden with the mother of the two boys.

He turned to me, his eyes half closed, and I thought actually he would kill her.

"Don't you think, uncle, that you could make a better job of it than I can? I'm altogether too blunt for so delicate a job," I begged.

"I could never tell her," pleaded the old man. "If I told her she would carry on something frightful. If you tell her she is apt to control herself better. We don't want to make her worse."

"Well, I brook the news to Metfrow De la Rey—in almost the same manner. For an hour the old woman lay in the tent moaning and sobbing. Then she washed her face and attended the presentation ceremony as if nothing had happened.

It took two men to drag Henry into the presence of his parents. When finally I had reluctantly thrown him into the tent, he lay there and walked all night long a candle burned in the tent and now and then faint sobbing would break upon the solitude.

A System for Saints.

C. M. Keys in The World's Work: Interlocking directorates have drawn the deepest lightning of public condemnation. It is not that a man can merely sit on a board of directors. The principle against which the forces of government, business and society have revolted is that a single man or group, being powerful, can dominate a company, a railroad, a steel company, a train-lighting company and a banking house, shall use its influence to see to it that the railroad buys its rails from the steel company, its cars from the car company, its engines from the locomotive company; that the steel company, etc., do their shipping by the railroad company; and that all of them borrow their credit through the bank and carry their deposits in the bank in which he is interested.

There was a beautiful system. If the twelve apostles and the pick of the saints were in the banking business they might cap it along the principles of perfect justice and with absolute honesty and fair play to the various corporations and their stockholders at large; but if they were only a group of ordinary, or even scoundrels, in business, it would certainly commit capital murder and grand larceny every now and again.

Because the banking business, so far, has produced only one or two men who even claim to have divine guidance in carrying on the affairs of business, all men know that the system of interlocking directorates is presently going to be a thing of the past.

The Main Thing.

Puck: Come, come, what do you want for this musical comedy, a long-skirted or a short-skirted chorus?

Producer: Any old length as long as it's tight-skirted.

Kokomo Times: The esteemed weather bureau has sprung a new one. It is the word "smud." Mr. Bureau explains when very frequently there are times when this mixture is apparent in the atmosphere, and it considers the new word a great little idea.

Very well, "Let's call it a mixie." But why snow there? Let's call it a mixture of snow and sleet, "smoot." A mixture of snow and hail, "small." Thus we might have a weather forecast:

"Smal today, turning to smoot to-night; tomorrow smoggy with smud."

When the Sap Begins to Run in the Sugar Trees

From the Philadelphia Record.

A little dispatch in the newspapers, which was probably unnoticed by persons who know nothing of country life except the glimpses they get of a summer's vacation, through the system of news, through the mail, has the most remarkable advantage of being brought up in the country.

Farmers eating sugar bushes on the south side of hills in Berkshires, Massachusetts, began tapping the maple trees today, and the first run of sap was unusually heavy. One of the best maple sugar seasons in years is expected.

Ah, back to the farm! Who that was ever reared on the maple syrup of the north, in the most acute sort, when he sees that sap is running? Just think of the old sugar bush and its joys! It is still cold, and there is plenty of snow on the ground, but the trees and the birds know that spring is at hand. And everything is green, though frozen, and the effect of that oscillation of temperature is to make the sap run.

Pa goes out with his sugar and horses to tap the maple bushes. The boys go along after him and drag wooden spouts into the holes and hang pads on the spouts. And by and by when they go around again and find the sweet juice in the pails, and they drink it raw, with the juice of maple chips and pour some of the hot syrup into wax. Has any city confectioner ever produced anything so delicious as that?

There are scurillous persons who say that at this season the farmer is a large buyer of brown sugar, and that the amount of maple syrup he produces is greater than his trees would have produced had they run thick syrup instead of sap. It is hard to believe that any man who has a sugar bush could be so wickedly unkind to the multitude who have not. But it may be.

The reformers tell us this is a commercial age and that with trolley cars and summer boarders the farmers have become more and more dependent upon many people. Let us draw a veil over the commercial side of maple syrup, which may possibly be tainted with the assured greed of gold, and let us think of the boy who has learned to boil the sugar bush and of the wax, and of the sugar which assuredly had no admixture of the brown product of the cane and which is so fresh that it is barely hard enough to handle.

Ah, why did we leave the farm!

That brings us down to the real point of our story. All this language up to now has been simply preliminary. The fact that Marvin was not recognized, but hopefully, as a candidate for governor, makes the whole affair a little dimmer.

That was the situation of Charles F. Marvin, chief of the United States weather bureau.

When Marvin was a lad of ten in Columbus, Ohio, he was morally certain that all he needed was simply a lot of good, fine twine to sail a kite so high and far that it would be seen across the country.

And in the face of that vaunting ambition he was obliged to content himself with little kites that flew with thread taken from his mother's work basket.

Other boys who had more spending money than little Charlie Marvin built big kites and sailed them with gay abandon, unreeling yard after yard of twine, and bought in the marts. All the time Marvin knew that he could build bigger and better kites than any of them. But what was he to do? He had no money to buy twine, and he had no place to keep it. Today Charles F. Marvin not only provides the kite with twine, but also the string of temperatures to make the sap run.

Marvin outgrew the regulation kite, flying it and entering into the United States weather service. Then he recalled his throttled ambition to build kites higher than anybody else. This time he had a government back of him and a fire lighter under him, and the most congenital desire to succeed.

Charles F. Marvin not only built kites, but also a great many other things.

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian topics or personal attacks on individuals or groups should not exceed 200 words—the shorter the better. A FIRESIDE DREAM.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I sat by the fading fire
When the flame was burning low
And the night wind was a-sighing
Till it made the embers glow.

I heard the solemns ticking
Of the melancholy clock
And the little restless clicking
Of the key within the lock.

For the cold north wind was knocking
At the door to let him in
While the fire on the hearthstone
Was growing very dim.

I saw the spark expire
And leave me alone in the dark
And the frozen panes of the windows
Looked at me grim and stark.

Then I thought of my love departed
In the land of eternity,
And in my enchanted fancy
Her image I could see.

Fair as the pure white lily
Or the well kept lamb of the fold;
It carried away all my troubles
And made me forget the cold.

For her heart was as warm as the fire
That kindles and burns and dies,
Yet in the mind of the loved ones
Our image still survives.

FRANK LETHERT,

WOULD LOWER THE COST OF DYING.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I enjoy reading letters in the Open Court, but I have not contributed to it. I notice right along what our commission of government is doing. But this is what I want to say: I believe the city ought to acquire a piece of land now for a city cemetery. Did you ever stop to think what you have to pay a square foot for a decent lot in Forest Hill? Why, property out there is bringing more than twice the price of Superior street. A man never stops to think about that till he is compelled to. I would like to have some good fellow bring this subject before our commissioners, put it up to them in the right place, get an idea, and then present it to the commissioners for charging and see if I am not right. I believe it is important for the city to own its cemetery, as it is water and gas or light or street cars.

Today a man ought to carry a $1,000 policy just to cover expenses of burial.

Anyway, go to the idea—(somebody)—let us hear from others about it. Let us get busy before all the land is taken up. Thanking you very much, I remain, "DEAD ONE!"

Duluth, March 28.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I wish to thank you for the assistance you gave me in my recent campaign. I lost my watch and fob on Thursday evening, March 26, and after running my ad. in your paper Friday, March 27, my watch and fob were returned to me about Friday, 6:30 p.m.

Today a man ought to carry a $1,000 policy just to cover expenses of burial.

With William E. Lee chosen by the anti-Eberhart Republicans of the state as their banner bearer, and the announcement within the past week of Governor Eberhart, who at last admits that he desires perpetuity in office, the state now looks to the Democratic ticket, which will be held in St. Paul tomorrow.

Much depends on the result of the election. We are holding our choice with the "nasty" and intricate problem that confronts Minnesota, just as the party solved much the same question ten years ago when nominated that state's greatest governor, John A. Johnson.

The political condition of the state at this moment is admitted with the most serious concern. With the mix-up in the Republican ranks, there is greater danger of the party becoming less effective.

Taxpayers feel that something must be done to reduce the drain on the pocketbook of property owners which is caused by the unnecessary and extravagant carelessness.

There is no answer to the question.

Both Eberhart and Lee are out on platforms of economy and efficiency, which has become the favorite slogan of the campaign candidates. Eberhart is handicapped by the fact that much waste and repairing has come to light during his administration, and his part in this life is enough to condemn any candidate. Good intentions are not to be despised, but the certain dry place of abode, but unless carried out are not good even for ornamentation.

On the other hand, Mr. Lee does not measure up to the opportunity that lay before the "antis," and the general feeling is that he is the best candidate in the anti ranks. The Long Prairie candidate probably will fall short of the goal of nominating the state opposition to the machine press alone—is rather startling.

The feeling is growing stronger that Mr. Lee has been nominated. Minneapolis conference packed, and that the other candidates were whipsawed and did not know it. In the state press the Mr. Lee has formed a machine of magnificent proportions and smooth operation, and the fact that he has the other candidates beaten—he knew it and simply played horse with them. Among the horses he beat were those of the Roseau County Times of Roseau, Warroad county. This paper was one of the very first to back the cause of Mr. Lee. Mr. Iverson, who was endorsed by Mr. Iverson is a thing which only they themselves know, but the fact remains that this paper hints at the reason in its latest issue.

Editor Bell seems to be very bitter over the affair. Whether or not he is correct in his inference that the party has the greatest of opportunities, even the "heretical" press seems to believe that the very reason for the conference tomorrow will make the most of it.

At the Democratic conference in McLeod county last Tuesday night, resolutions were passed which are not令人惊讶的. The national administration is endorsed, so is Secretary Bryan, President Wilson, the first toll master and on his handling of the Mexican situation; and John Lind is commended for his work.

The same day—and others, too—decide that if Mr. Lee permits Peterson to carry out his promise to take the stump for the anti-machine candidates, then he will be a "jerk" and cause of Peterson's "unwarranted attack" on Mr. Iverson, charging him with being a "rascal" and "a scoundrel."

In general, there is the sweetest kind of a mix-up, and the end is by no means yet.

Peterson, however, will either submit or come out in the open and fight Lee on the grounds that he was "jobbed" in the conference.

Hence, the solution seems to be up to the Democrats. Will they take full advantage of their opportunity? That will be decided by the order of the day.

At the state convention tomorrow there is no doubt, but don't even think that Dan Lawler will be able to "lure" the state convention to the city of Duluth.

At the state convention tomorrow, it is generally expected, will be one of the liveliest political gatherings in the history of the state.

The same day—and others, too—decide that if Mr. Lee permits Peterson to carry out his promise to take the stump for the anti-machine candidates, then he will be a "jerk" and cause of Peterson's "unwarranted attack" on Mr. Iverson, charging him with being a "rascal" and "a scoundrel."

Peterson, however, will either submit or come out in the open and fight Lee on the grounds that he was "jobbed" in the conference.

Hence, the solution seems to be up to the Democrats. Will they take full advantage of their opportunity? That will be decided by the order of the day.

At the state convention tomorrow there is no doubt, but don't even think that Dan Lawler will be able to "lure" the state convention to the city of Duluth.

At the state convention tomorrow, it is generally expected, will be one of the liveliest political gatherings in the history of the state.

The same day—and others, too—decide that if Mr. Lee permits Peterson to carry out his promise to take the stump for the anti-machine candidates, then he will be a "jerk" and cause of Peterson's "unwarranted attack" on Mr. Iverson, charging him with being a "rascal" and "a scoundrel."

In general, there is the sweetest kind of a mix-up, and the end is by no means yet.

THE HOME

EDITORIAL.

THE HOME

The test that is being applied to the modern home in these days of more and simple living is: Is it livable? Does it express the needs of another? Does it look up to life merely set together, unalive like the stage drawing room?

If you are refurnishing for the spring, or the summer—and you know nothing revives a whole house and household so much as the spring freshening—now is the time to start. You can express something or something different, if it is nothing more than big, plain and roomy, comfortable and cozy. But what that is cluttered with things, does not express home necessarily, half so well as the simple, furnished room that has light and comfort and lots of light and sunshine for the people who inhabit it.

ARTISTICALLY RESTFUL.

In spite of the second vague in one color scheme, especially the living room, is mostly in favor, because of its restful effect. Most notably of course are tones of one color with pleasing touches of contrasts. Brown, say, with tan is unusual, however, but the colors of old furniture, the wallpaper; creamy tan window hangings that sift the light into tints of some shade; the shades of the same tone and material; the hangings and the covers in a mingling of the shades. The result is vastly more to be desired than the muchly-mixed room.

In carrying out this one-color idea, and aiming for lightness, comes in the summer setting of the nursery, and especially for daintiness in the boudoir and sleeping rooms. In the practical and the wearables we are borrowing the ideas of the French woman, only, with an eye to the cost. The new washable, washable costly hand work, the new muslin machine embroideries that are to be found in designs that are wonderfully adapted to just such decorations.

EMBROIDERIES AND CRETTONNES.

Especially fitting for the side of the sweethearts' bed is a rug done in white open-work embroidered effects on very sheer stuff. For the bed-and dresser covers a blue or pink lining may be used, and the valances and curtains most effective for valances and if headed with the ribbon-run heading have all the exquisite femininity of delicate lingerie. The den is for investigating for its fresh cleanliness, since nothing is so washable as muslin embroidery.

The auto-match idea can be beautifully developed in the new cretonnes which come in varieties, and prices to suit everybody's pocket. The colors are in double and single widths beside. It is pleasingly astonishing to know of all the things that can be made of cretonne—curtains and portières; hat boxes and window seats; bureaus and beds, even the jacking-up part of the plain bed and the covering of a looking-glass frame or entire bureau; writing sets and trays; towels and handkerchiefs; the considerable cretonne is used. In a room it is well to use one or two less obtrusive fixtures of the French cretonne, and the Oriental or modern art effect is employed, then balance it by extreme plainness in the one-color rug and the cretonne screens added.

SIMPLY COOLNESS.

Are you planning to fit up your summer porch, or lacking a porch, a city room that will give you all the pleasure of the outdoors? Then, if the breezy comfort of a summer porch is what you want, a can or two of paint will start the ball rolling; the man at the paint shop will tell you just the kind and the color for getting the right effect. The ornaments of the porch, the wallpaper; creamy tan window hangings, chairs, settees and screens and your floors and the walls; you want Grass rugs or rag rugs, cotton ones, and linoleum, make all be in the same shade, for it is cool and soil resisting. The Japanese matting is also lovely, and good for porch fittings, for floor covers, wall hangings, screens and even for big cushion covers. While canvas and wood are to be had for wainscoting and dadoes.

If one room or one part of a room is too hot and uncomfortable when the glare and sun of the warm season comes on, it is possible that an awning is the very best thing to have. Awning fixtures are so made now that they may be left up for use next year when the awning is taken down. The best of the cloth is being made more "sunfast" and weather proof, so that one buying will serve for several seasons and think of the extra comfort you are getting.

McIntyre & Heath Coming in Revival of "The Ham Tree."

McIntyre and Heath undoubtedly owe much to their long and careful study of the varying dialects and mannerisms of the Southern negro as to their own innate sense of humor. They had the best of opportunities to study the negro at close range during the early days of their career, when their first formal organization, "McIntyre and Heaths' Minstrels," was struggling through Southern territory.

McIntyre recently admitted in a reminiscence mood the following: "Sometimes we had to go to our armories after mostly bad business and by talking to the negroes get enough to eat." McIntyre and Heath, a company that was born a few years ago before the New York Association of Ethnological Science, asserted that the colored roustabouts of Charleston, S. C., spoke a dialect almost identical with the Irish immigrants who landed in South Carolina about seventy years ago. New Orleans negroes introduce many perversions of French and Spanish dialect.

The New Orleans levees can scarcely understand the darky deckhand who comes flat-floating down from the Red river country, where the land which is the scene of many of the incidents in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Again one finds heavier and more pithy voices than Southerners than in Virginia, Kentucky or Tennessee, where today the negro continues to be more purely African than in his actions.

McIntyre speaks the Alabama and Heath the Georgia dialect. A study of their pronunciations is most interesting. The two comedians will appear in John Cort's elaborate revival of the most successful comedy ever produced, "The Ham Tree," at the Lyceum Friday and Saturday, with a matinee

MAIN BROKEN; NOBODY KNEW IT

Repairs Are Completed
Without Shutting Off
City Water.

The repair of a serious break in the 42-inch force main at Thirty-fourth avenue east and Superior street was completed last Saturday by the water and light department without cutting off the water supply in any part of the city.

About a year ago the same break caused serious trouble, cutting off the supply of many people for several days. This time no effort was made to replace the broken flanges as soon as possible. New pieces were fitted and bolted on the outside and heavily sealed with lead. Manager D. A. Reed and Engineer E. W. Kelley, who su-

Railroads

PREPARE FOR A BUSY SEASON

Railroads Have Inquiries Out for About 10,000 New Cars.

That officials of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad are looking forward to an active season's iron ore traffic, is shown in an inquiry for 1,000 cars sent out last week. The company's iron ore traffic offering both of ore and general freight will be heavy after the opening of navigation, and the company is preparing to take care of it.

Other inquiries in the market at present are reported to be equivalent to 1,000 cars, and 10,000 cars are provided there is no serious setback in the condition of the winter wheat crop, substantial improvement in the lumber business looked for.

Operations of the iron and steel plants at the leading centers this winter have been reduced to about 75 per cent of capacity, and with a number of good-sized contracts pending, rail makers are especially cautious. What has been noted during the last few days was a small one by the Soo Line. An order for 150,000 tons from the Pennsylvania railroad is pending, and is expected to be placed shortly.

EXPECT HEAVY TRAFFIC IN WEST

Railways Look for Boom in North Dakota and Eastern Montana.

Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroad officials are looking forward to a record business this year out of Western North Dakota and Eastern Montana.

An agricultural boom is expected to continue, with settlers already going out there in numbers this spring. The opening of the Fort Peck Indian reservation was the biggest factor in promoting outdoor interest.

The fact that these railroads are extending their lines into territory west of Glendale, and that a fine agricultural country is being opened up ahead of the work, is of interest to the railroads. It is said that taking into account further construction on the Soo Line's Montana extension, new construction by the railroads in the Northwest will be upon a much heavier scale than last year.

MEDIATOR TAKES UP TELEGRAPHERS' CASE.

Chicago, March 30.—G. W. W. Hangen, assistant United States commissioner of labor, acted as mediator to adjust the wage controversy between the Lake Shore, Big Four and Chicago & Southern Indiana railroads and the 1,800 telegraphers in their employ.

J. E. Berney, vice president of the New York Central, in charge of the three constituent lines, represented the railroads at the hearing. A. J. Neumann, general manager of Lake Shore telegraphers, B. H. Perham, international president of the Order of Telegraphers, and the telegraphers' agent granted.

The telegraphers began negotiations for an increase in wages last August by appealing to the individual companies. The telegraphers voted to strike. Federal mediation was asked by the telegraphers, and granted.

C. A. Mitchell, commercial agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul at Duluth, was in Chicago on business connected with the local office. Mr. Mitchell is the agent who recently succeeded C. L. Kennedy.

Many Duluthians in South.

L. W. Dickenson, assistant city ticket agent of the Omaha, returned yesterday from a trip to Florida, Cuba and New Orleans. He said he had found that there is an unusually large number of American tourists in Cuba and also that there are many Duluthians in various parts of the South.

LANDMARK BURNS AT GRAND FORKS

Ingalls Hotel Gutted and Other Property Is Damaged.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald)—The Ingalls house, a pioneer hotel of Grand Forks, was gutted by fire early today with a loss of $1,000. The fire was started probably by faulty wiring. The Rossof drug store is a heavy loser while Warburton's confectionery, the Sibley's Soda Shop, Sibley's Old Store and the Postal Telegraph had lighter losses. The Scandinavian-American bank owned the building and fixtures which were valued at $11,000.

POSTOFFICE BLOWN AT COUNDERAY, WIS.

Coudray, Wis., March 30.—(Special to The Herald)—The postoffice here was burglarized early Sunday morning. An entrance was forced through a window. Some small change and a book of money orders were taken. Signs indicate the work of professionals.

TRANSIT COMPANY NAMES OFFICERS.

J. W. Giesner, of Chicago, supervising engineer of the Canada-Atlantic Transit company, yesterday announced appointments of officers for the line as follows:

Steamer "Keweenaw"—William Baxter, master; A. T. Williams, engineer.

Steamer "George N. Ormsby"—James B. Weilman, master; James B. Weilman, engineer.

Steamer "Newona"—William Moles, master; William Paus, engineer.

Steamer "John Simons"—D. C. Mance, engineer.

And for the Ontario Carferry company's carferry Ontario, No. 1 Capt. H. D. Forrest and Chief Engineer William Nichols.

BUYS A MINE AT BANKRUPT SALE.

Nels P. Fordin of Marquette, very well known to many business men of Duluth, announced here today that he has bought the Crystal Mine at Crystal Falls, Mich., within the last few days.

"I bought the mine in a bankrupt sale," said Mr. Fordin, "and believe I have made a good investment. I have not decided at this present what I shall do with it immediately or dispose of it. It is a very good property and appears to have a large amount of iron ore."

YOUNG ESSAYIST TO ACT AS GUIDE

Arvid Hill of Cedric Gets Appointment as Result of His Ability.

Arvid J. Hill of Cedric, Minn., who represented St. Louis county at the state farm boys' encampment held in connection with the Minnesota state fair at Hamline last year, has been successful in securing an appointment to act as representative of his congressional district at the state fair again this year. Each congressional district of the state will have one representative at the state fair who will represent the various counties in that district.

Arvid recently entered a competition with other summer boys in this congressional district, who represented their respective counties at the state fair last year. He submitted the best essay, "What I Learned at the State Fair as a Member of the State Farm Boys' Camp." St. Louis county will have two representatives at the state fair this year. The state fair association has arranged to pay the expenses of one farmer boy from each congressional district selected by means of an essay contest.

Sherriff's Stenographer Helps Take Undesirable Aliens to Chicago.

Miss Elizabeth Sullivan, a stenographer in the office of Sheriff John R. Meining, acted as one of a party of twenty attendants who assisted United States immigration inspectors in deporting fifty-one aliens from the country last week.

TYRUS RAYMOND COBB made a speech recently to the solons of the Southland. Guess he isn't strong down there. And another little thing—like Freddy Welsh and others of the smart and brainy athletes capturing before the brisk admiration of the public, the Georgia Peach is some press agent. Whether Ruby Waddell was ever a conscious publicity worker, you can search us. We have always attributed it to the exuberance of the youthful mind of this huge fellow. Welsh and Cobb are smart enough to realize that it pays excellent dividends to have your name on the lips of the thousands—and you might notice that both are eating at first class hotels.

Old Mike Yokel Writes.

MIKE YOKEL, the postmaster of the desert waste of the Jackson Hole country, has not made up his mind as yet whether he will come north and wrestle Waino Ketone.

After Waino disposes of the aspirations of Josephine Carr there will be one grand wrestling character left for the Finn. Guess his name. It is the wrestling marvel of the desert.

"I can't say as yet," writes Mike. "I have important business at home just now. Salt Lake City wants the match. I know the little Finn is tough. But I'll wrestle him some place. I have never sidestepped anyone as yet."

The Age of the Dollar.

BACK in the dear and devoted days of our grandfathers and likewise our grandmothers, the dear dollar consideration was often shoved behind the stove and left to pine away while principles paraded the community.

While not in the least a pessimist while three healthy meals are within speaking distance, allow us to remark that it is the dollar that has the village spotlight nowadays.

Fearing the financial editor would kick were we to allude to Messrs. Rockefeller and Gould and others, the baseball world will be discussed.

Years ago during the brotherhood war, Mike Kelly was offered a fortune to desert his team. The great Irishman refused—and Kelly needed the money.

Adrian C. Anson remained loyal throughout the tempting and parlous times in the Chicago baseball team—and he has nothing material to show for his manhood today—nothing but his own self respect.

Now it is different. The Feds have raided the roster of the regular leagues and now the majors are contemplating a counter raid. The dollar will rule supreme, for this is the age of the dollar counts.

Let the sob writers tell of the hardness of this material age, of broken friendships, occasionally bringing the weeping parents—nothing can state that loyalty in baseball is a joke—manager and player alike; because it is the price that commands immediate and eager attention—and if the Feds have enough dollars in their strong box, they will win.

Large Emil Klank Speaks.

FROM Omaha Emil Klank sends in an epistle, for it is written on the best stationery of the best hotel in the reformed village.

"Fred never got started in the American match," writes Klank. "I have no excuses to offer. We didn't know he wasn't right until it was too late. It was no one's fault. We will show the public later that Fred is still one of the greatest. That's all for the time being."

It Was Very Rude.

JUST as the volatile French were on the point of believing Georges Carpenter was the greatest heavyweight boxer in the world, along comes old and somewhat battle-scarred Joe Jenette and scores a victory over the idol of the gay Parisians.

Far be it from us to knock the aspirations of Georges; recall, countrymen, that only down the scant reach of the years this Carpenter was fighting the bantams. Voila! Now he is competing with the heavyweights. The only trouble was that France wanted Georges to do too much. But when one thinks of Bomb Wells—when one does—and recalls the pugilistic atrocities committed by the Briton, why then one begins to think that after

Right in Line, This Name. READING in one of the English sporting papers of the name of one of the latest fighters on the other side of the brine, we are forced to believe that the name is harmonizing with some of the work of some of the fighters England has been plagued with.

Hist! This man's name is Percy Jones.

If the poor and downtrodden lad—speaking now purely from the standpoint of his name—ever becomes famous, he surely will be deserving of heaps of golden and brightly smiling credit.

Fee on "Percy" Jones' parents. May-be, though, they wanted him to enter the blawsted trade and go behind the ribbon counter. However, be that as it may, if Percy rises to fame in the ranks of the padded mits artists, we shall feel it a bounden duty to send him a postal card of congratulatory greetings.

Percy is a grand old name—for a cat, eh, dear.

Uncle Nick Allen.

UPON one of the sporting pages of one of the Buffalo papers appears the classic countenance of Uncle Nick Allen, the gent who caught and Allen southern character parts with the Minneapolis Northern league team last season.

Nickodemus is now enrolled with the Federals. The elongated comical, when thinking of the game bewailed the fate that sent him to a minor league team. He deeply deplored the fact that they were not more people on hand at all the games to appreciate his comedy.

Now the genial catcher is praised for his wonderful work in the early practice games. If Allen ever becomes serious and gets down to hard tasks, he will sure be a real catcher.

Some whip!

He Won't Fight Out There, JIMMY CLABY won't remain in California. How do you know? Cause we read in a paper that a judge had fined him $1,000 for hitting a policeman, who never did any harm—and also forbade James from taking a drink in California. Therefore we say with some assurance that James will not return to California for three years.

Oh, rum, thou art a demon—you are welcome, prohibitionists.

ANOTHER EFFORT TO BUY THE CHICAGO CUBS.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 30.—A local attorney, who is to represent Herbert S. Mills of Chicago, has opened negotiations with Charles P. Taft for the purchase of the Chicago National league club.

A price has been agreed upon by Mr. Mills and the bidders, and it is said that he is awaiting an answer from Mr. Mills.

Chicago, March 30.—Herbert S. Mills admitted today that he was the head of a local syndicate formed to purchase the Chicago National league baseball club from Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati.

It is true we have begun negotiations for the purchase of the club, but I do not care to discuss the terms or details, whether the deal will go through," said Mr. Mills. "We are of the opinion that the team should be owned by Chicago men, and we have the money to buy it if the price is fair. That is all we have to say."

Mr. Mills is a wealthy manufacturer and for several years has been active in the city. Sunday, Monday to confer with Mr. Kavanaugh regarding the training season plans. Judging from the action of the commission that will have its first division team this season, Kavanaugh and Wheeler have entered various districts in the country, and according to the done, they have landed several real stars.

It is difficult to say.

Accuses Phillips, Wis., Mayor.
Milwaukee, Wis., March 30.—The mayor of the city of Phillips, according to Attorney General Olson, is guilty of official malfeasance for remaining as a stockholder in the water and light plant which furnished about $4,000 worth of water and light to the city annually.

That the contract between the city and public utility company was executed prior to the time the stockholder became mayor can make no difference.

MARKET HAS WEAK TURN

Wheat Sells Off Under Bearish Influences—Crop Reports Good.

Flaxseed Declines With Heavy Selling and No Support From Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 30.—The market grew weaker at the close. May wheat closed 3¢ off, July 3¢ off, and September a cent off. May durum closed 8¢ off and July 3¢ off. Oats closed 3¢ off at 38¢, and rye closed unchanged at 55¢ for the best grades.

At Winnipeg May oats closed at 56¢ bid and July at 37¢ bid.

Puffs on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $20-$25, and oats at 89¢.

The wheat market was weak today under an accumulation of bearish influences. There were advices of further rains from over the winter wheat territory. Snow's report placed its condition at 91.7 per cent, indicating a yield of 600,000,000 bu., as compared with last year's record crop of 523,000,000 bu.

Seafood exporters at New York reported that resellers abroad were offering wheat at a cent cheaper than it could be bought for in this country. Liverpool grain dealers offered American wheat, and favorable reports from Russia. Decline in corn at Chicago, Kansas City, and St. Louis, together with favorable weather reports from Russia, and pressure in corn helped the decline. The market was quiet, but the market report will be bearish. At 1:30 p.m. the undertone was easy, 1¢ @ 1¢ lower.

May opened 1¢ lower and later further declined 1¢ with the undertone easy. Fine weather in Argentina and small supplies from Australia with freer Danubian offers helped to stimulate profit-taking. At 1:30 p.m. prices were 4¢ lower for July.

Liverpool weekly stocks of wheat were 2,816,000 bu., increase 201,000 bu.; corn, 1,881,000 bu., decrease 257,000 bu.

Port William and Port Arthur stocks at the end of last week were reported at 11,905,604 bu. against 11,418,332 bu. last week and 11,512,212 bu. last year; oats, 4,334,932 bu., down 1,000 bu.; rye, 1,162,199 bu., up 162,199 bu. last year; flax, 2,812,199 bu. against 2,811,442 bu. last week and 2,367,485 bu. last year; barley, 1,399,337 bu. last week and 2,182,263 bu. last year.

In vessels not included in the above, May wheat, 1,498,290 bu.; oats, 545,611 bu. last year; oats, 2,614,311 bu. against 1,435,611 bu. last year; flax, 461,961 bu. against 1,120,375 bu. last year; and rye, 1,732 bu. against 12,581 bu. last year.

Primary receipts showed a slight increase in the first three hours of trading, but the market was quiet, and it declined 1¢.

Liquidation in Flaxseed.—Flaxseed buyers shied away from the session under pressure of liberal selling and small interest on the part of crushers. The market was off from its opening and was weaker in increased during the first three hours of trading, with liquidation more in evidence. Flaxseed prices showed declines of 1¢ and 2¢ for the day.

Receipts at Minneapolis were in larger proportions at Minneapolis and in Canada and London closed 3¢ off and Buenos Aires and Antwerp unchanged.

Receipts at Duluth were at $1.61 and it closed 1¢ off at $1.59. July opened unchanged at $1.62¢ and it closed at $1.61¢. September closed at $1.63¢, and the close came at $1.61¢. At Winnipeg May fax closed at $1.49¢ and July at $1.49¢.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Receipts of all grains at Duluth last week fell off sharply to 368,000 bu. Shipments, including amounts taken out by the mills, aggregated 161,000 bu.

B. W. Snow's crop report says broadly speaking the crop starts with strong growth but retarded and a period of sufficient rainfall to carry it to maturity with less than normal rainfall between now and the harvest. There appear ready to anticipate a favorable crop in the life of the season this year, on account of the mild character of the winter and the fact that this cause is always a minor factor."

World's shipments.—Wheat—Anglo can, 2,556,000 bu.; Russian, 2,238,000 bu.; Dubnian, 1,288,000 bu.; Indian, 26,000 bu.; Argentine, 1,841,000 bu.; Australian, 2,400,000 bu.; South African, 300,000 bu.; total, 10,832,000 bu.; against 11,968,000 bu. last week; and 13,520,000 bu. last year. Corn shipments, 1,000,000 bu. against 1,000,000 bu. last year.

On passage—Wheat, 48,322,000 bu.; last week, 50,072,000 bu.; and last year, 57,188,000 bu.; decrease, 1,144,000 bu. Corn, 5,505,000 bu.; last week, 5,088,000 bu.; and last year, 11,926,000 bu.; decrease, 230,000 bu.

The Minneapolis cash market was a little groggy with the demand centered mostly on the choicer offerings.

NEWS

Did you ever stop to consider that the letters in the word NEWS stand for the initials of the four points of the compass.

What the news does is literally to put you in touch with the four quarters of the whole world every day in the year and almost every hour of the day.

The advertising has come to be an essential part of the news. It covers the entire compass of the business world.

It tells of the currents of trade.

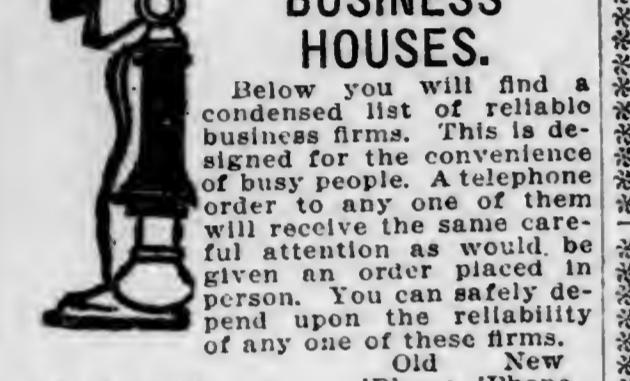

It tells where things are made, what they are for, and what the cost.

It deals with facts—facts that concern the well being of the people.

Take it from the standpoint of actual helpfulness—and there is, on the whole, little news in the newspaper that is as important as the advertising.

Votes Against Issue for Municipal Waterworks Project.

Hanna Elected Mayor for Third Time—Other Iowa Elections.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 31.—Confusion of voters over the ballot used in the municipal waterworks election yesterday was given by its friends today, as a reason for the defeat of the measure. It seemed almost certain that the bond issue had lost, even though the people had voted "yes" on the question of municipal ownership by a substantial majority. The ballot contained two questions, after it had been announced that only one proposition would have to be voted upon.

Hanna Re-elected.

Verification of the returns on the candidates for mayor and city council yesterday showed that Mayor James R. Hanna had been elected by his third term by an almost 2 to 1 victory over Zell G. Root, former police commissioner. John M. Larson, the labor candidate for council, who appeared to have been beaten in early returns last night, was successful in his effort to collect enough, by nearly 150 votes. The other commissioners Millionaire Lumberman's Life Is Sustained By Oxygen.

Sons From St. Paul Reach His Bedside at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 31.—Frederick Weyerhaeuser, the millionaire Minnesota lumberman who has been ill at his winter home near Pasadena for a week, today was reported in a critical condition. His condition grew worse last night and it was feared he could not recover. Oxygen was used to prolong life.

Weyerhaeuser was prostrated by an inexcusable great pain, which was causing him to groan. Signs of pneumonia were noted. At that time physicians said there was no cause for alarm.

The aged lumberman talked yesterday with his sons, Charles and Frederick, who arrived from St. Paul. S. S. Davies and Mrs. K. J. Hill, daughter of the stricken man, are hurrying to the bedside from the East.

He lauded Majority Leader Udowood and Speaker Clark, who said, "by every rule of law and honor should be president today," for refusing to postpone the bill.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR "HANDSOME JACK"

Jury Finds Koetters Guilty of Murdering Mrs. Kraft.

Kraft.

Chicago, March 31.—John B. (Handsome) Jack Koetters was found guilty of murdering Mrs. Emma Kraft of Cincinnati, and his punishment was fixed at life imprisonment, in a verdict rendered by a jury here today. The jury took the case yesterday afternoon.

The crime was committed Nov. 14, 1912. Mrs. Kraft was 60 years old and had been infatuated with Koetters and had just sold her little property in Cincinnati for $2,000. She was found dead in the room in which Koetters, failing to get the money from her by勒索, murdered her and fled with it. Koetters previously had obtained $800 from Mrs. Kraft. This the defendant admitted.

Woman's Head Crushed.
Mrs. Kraft was found in a hotel room here at the point of death, her head crushed in, and she had died from Koetters' hammer. Suspicion pointed to Koetters, but a nation-wide search for him was fruitless until he was accidentally recognized in San Francisco. When arrested he had $60 in a pocket of his coat and $800 concealed in his shirt.

A feature of the defense was an attempt to set up alibi for the slain woman, asserted of the maid. Evidence was offered to prove that Mrs. Kraft could not have been in the house at the time Koetters was said by the state's witnesses to have arrived there.

From the jury it was learned that the jurors agreed at once on Koetters' guilt, and debated only on the punishment to be inflicted. Koetters is about 30 years old.

Avenues of Federal Aid Blocked—Witnesses Describe Battle.

FIGHTING CONTINUES.

Juarez, March 31.—At 1 o'clock today a single line of fighting started at Torreon, Mexico, and received by rebel officials here. A rumor that an armistice had been agreed to was denied.

Rebels Are Optimistic.
Chihuahua, Mex., March 31.—While officials here are optimistic as to the outcome of the battle, they say that the absence of official reports indicates that Gen. Villa is making no strenuous resistance.

The telegraph office, accepting telegrams addressed to Gomez Palacio, care of Gen. Villa, but thus far none addressed to newspaper men has been replied to.

FIGHTING CONTINUES.

Juarez, March 31.—The only information available here early today was that fighting continued at Torreon. The rebels did not reply, but rebel officials declared that the main battle for the town was fought at Gomez Palacio last night, and that the rebels had won on both sides, and they assert that neither side is now able to repeat so bloody and determined conflict.

In Torreon, the fighting is said to be from house to house, whereas Gomez Palacio had to be taken by storm after three days of fighting, most of which men went down by hundreds.

FEDERAL TREASURY SEIZED.

Douglas, Ariz., March 31.—The Spanish steamer Bonal, carrying $60,000 worth of gold, which had been held in garrison at Douglas, was captured Saturday by Constitutionalists off Topolobampo, according to officials.

The money was confiscated and the vessel sunk and the captain and crew arrested.

TWO MINNESOTANS OPPOSE REPEAL BILL

Smith and Manahan Talk in House Against the Sims Measure

From the Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, March 31.—Two Minnesota Republican members, Smith and Manahan, have declared themselves opposed to the Sims bill to repeal the free tolls provision of the Panama Canal law. Representing the state, he was opposed to the repealing bill because he believed it involved the surreptitious removal of the important rights of ownership of the United States in the Panama canal.

Mr. Smith said the provision of the bill to terminate the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was "simply a guarantee to the United States as the only country to whom the Hay-Pauncefote treaty gave the right to the Panama canal to show no favoritism or partiality to one foreign nation over any other, or to conditions or charges of any kind."

Mr. Manahan's speech consisted of a series of questions on the points discussed by the members of the measure, one of them being a query as to why he wasn't given more time to discuss the question.

Smith in his testimony declared that he had been paid $2 an hour for his work, and that he had collected the money from Mayor Roberts. The witness was cross-examined yesterday, but the defense had not finished with him when court adjourned for the day.

SAYS HE WAS PAID TO HAUL 'REPEALERS'

Terre Haute, Ind., March 31.—When the trial of Mayor Dunn M. Roberts, charged with election frauds, was resumed in the circuit court today, Wallace A. Myers, a lawyer, was called for cross-examination. Myers yesterday testified that for three days last October he had hauled repeaters to the state's attorney's office, and later had driven repeaters to different polling precincts at the election in November.

Myers in his testimony declared that he had been paid $2 an hour for his work, and that he had collected the money from Mayor Roberts. The witness was cross-examined yesterday, but the defense had not finished with him when court adjourned for the day.

DEMOCRATIC CONFERENCE AT ST. PAUL STRONGLY IN FAVOR OF HAMMOND FOR GOVERNOR

CHOICE OF DEMOCRATIC CONFERENCE FOR GOVERNOR

WINFIELD SCOTT HAMMOND, Congressman From the Second Minnesota District.

SENTIMENT PRACTICALLY UNANIMOUS

Second District Congressman Is Ready to Obey the Call.

Only Few Delegates Desire Lawler as the Candidate.

Senator Sullivan of St. Cloud Chosen Temporary Chairman.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—That Congressman W. S. Hammon, of Jamestown, will be the choice of gubernatorial honors of the Democratic conference which is being held in the Auditorium here today, seems to be a foregone conclusion. Congressman Hammon has notified his friends, after repeated urgings that he will "abide by the decision of the conference." This is more than he has heretofore admitted, as he was of two minds—one being to run again for congress from the Second district of Minnesota, and the other to take a try at the governorship.

Even if Lawler, a member of the delegation, having quit trying to make believe that they have any show in the conference, should suddenly decide to run, Lynch is Hammon's man. There you have it. However, it is not hoped to put matters through without a fight, and the delegates are determined to fulfill their duty, regardless of anything else, for there will not be enough Lawlers in the conference to make the fight dangerous at any stage of the game.

The gathering in the Auditorium is generally conceded one of the most representative the state has ever known. Men with personal business interests, or personal ambitions for the future, paying their own expenses and devoting their time to the benefit of the state rather than party. Ernest Lawler, of Jamestown, is the only exception, and it is believed will produce pregnant results. It is the general sentiment here that because of the strong Hammon sentiment it is not at all unlikely that Dan Lawler will withdraw, but whether the withdrawal of the delegates takes concrete form, Mr. Lawler is a delegate and is therefore subject to the decision of the conference.

Sullivan Is Chairman.

The conference met at 11 o'clock this morning.

STATE PLANTING TREES.
Reforestation Is Going on in Itasca and Crow Wing Counties.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 31.—The planting of 1,000,000 pine trees, the first reforestation work by the state of Minnesota on a large scale, was begun yesterday in Itasca and Crow Wing counties. The tree planting is being done under the supervision of D. P. Tierney, assistant state forester. Most of the trees planted are white pine. T. Cox, state forester, said that some experimental reforestation had been done in the northern part of the state, which has proven that the work when a few dead and burned over lands will be replanted. The work is being done with a $10,000 fund appropriated by the legislature.

SAYS KIDNEY REMEDY ACTS LIKE MAGIC

I have been a terrible sufferer for a number of years with kidney and liver trouble, also nervous prostration and health generally poor, constitution entirely run down until life became a burden. Tried physicians and every available remedy was found to relive. Was induced to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a trial, which acted like magic, and am happy to say that I believe I am entirely cured and now as good a man as ever. I am sure that others who may be suffering from the same trouble, Swamp-Root is without question the greatest remedy in the world. Anyone in doubt of this statement or the authenticity can address me as below.

Yours very truly,

WILL COLLECT GARBAGE FREE

City Prefers This Plan to the Exclusive Contract System.

Lack of Funds Will Delay
Action Until Next Year.

The city will not award an exclusive contract for the collection and disposal of garbage and ashes, but will endeavor to establish free municipal collection as soon as the finances will permit.

This decision was reached at an informal conference held in the mayor's office this morning.

Since the opening of the bid submitted by the Sanitary Garbage company and its terms published, a storm of protest against acting favorably upon the proposal has been raised. The city council has been bombarded with objections coming from all parts of the city.

Council Heeds Protests.

The consensus of opinion has been that the city should establish a free municipal collection if it is in response to this widespread expression of the public's sentiment that the collection should be conducted only to work to the end that free collection may be instituted as soon as the funds are available.

"The city's action in advertising for bids and considering the proposition submitted seems a wise use of public money that attention was centered on the garbage collection problem," said Commissioner William A. Hickernell of the city's department of transportation. "We desire the figures in order that we might have a definite basis on which to discuss the matter. We believe that the city of Duluth are strongly opposed to the exclusive contract and are as heartily in favor of the municipal collection. All members of the council have felt that municipal collection is the only satisfactory solution of the problem. We believe that there might be haste in the action taken and that the best interests of the city served by private collection for a time. We shall now proceed to examine the system and we have instituted and we hope that within the next year or two it may be extended to all parts of the city."

No Funds This Year.

The city has no funds available this year for installing the free collection system. The city is made next fall it is probable that a levy of $10,000 to $15,000 will be included.

The health department now has four or five sanitary garbage wagons, part of which are in use. One is kept busy in the downtown district. Another follows part of the time in the West End and the balance of the time assists in the downtown collection. Other wagons may be started at an early date.

MUCH DEVELOPMENT OF MINES EXPECTED

Great Northern and Other Concerns Plan Large Amount of Work.

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—Though preparations for taking over the Great Northern properties now being operated by the Oliver Iron Mining company under leases which expire on Jan. 1, 1915, will occupy the greater part of the attention of the Great Northern management, the development work on the lands now in their control will not be overlooked.

It is believed that the Smith mine, located north of the North Uno property, which has been cleaned by Butler Brothers during the winter, will be opened during the coming summer.

Stripping the Dunwoody.
The Winston Mining company has four shafts open on the Dunwoody mine at Chisholm and the Great Northern Ore company will be ready, in case it is necessary to strip the property before the close of the present season. At the Dean, two shovels are at work completing the stripping of the property of Butler Brothers, and will reach the on this season.

The property, which is perhaps of most interest to the residents of the range, is the Hill Annex at Calumet, where a shaft has been sunk. The mine is owned by the Hill and is being operated by the company under a state lease. This is one of the largest properties in the district and definite in-

BACK TO FARM FOR POLICEMAN

Protecting life and property in a city like Duluth does not appeal to Patrolman Edward E. Cledenning as much as does the life of a farmer. This morning he presented his resignation to Chief Troyer, and he will leave the department tomorrow.

Patrolman Cledenning came to Duluth in September, 1912, and joined the fire department, where he served until May, when he received his appointment on the police force. He has been an able officer and was considered one of the best young members in the department.

About two years ago Patrolman Cledenning decided to leave his father's farm in Turin, Lake Wissota, and seek his fortune in Duluth. But the work did not appeal to him, and he had the opportunity to take charge of his father's farm, to take care of it and give up his work here.

MAY CHANGE CLUB NAME

Commercial Club May Become Duluth Association of Commerce.

Annual Meeting and Election of Officers on April 8.

A proposal to change the name of the Duluth Commercial club to "Duluth Association of Commerce" will be submitted to the members of the club at the annual meeting Wednesday evening, April 8.

Notice of the proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation has been issued by Secretary H. V. Eva, who is also requesting members who will be attending the annual meeting to telegraph running to H. C. Haraldson, A. H. Crassweller and G. A. Sherwood of the board of directors. An affirmative vote of the board of directors membership is necessary to amend the articles of incorporation.

The work's division feels that it is fortunate in securing Mr. Preston to conduct the work. Under his agreement the contractor will furnish picks and shovels.

CITY WILL TRY EXPERIMENT OF DOING OWN PAVING WORK

The first big job that the city of Duluth has undertaken to do by means of day labor was authorized by the city commission yesterday afternoon. The work involves the paving of West Superior street between Fifteenth and Nineteenth streets.

A resolution was passed authorizing Commissioner R. Murchison, head of the works division, to pay the man who had been engaged a sum of $1,000 or 6 per cent of the pay roll. The job will be in charge of James Preston, a well known local contractor, former member of the board of public works and candidate for commissioner at last city election.

will know instantly that it is the central commercial and civic organization of the city.

A return of the by-laws of the Commercial club will also be submitted to the members at the annual meeting. No radical changes are proposed, but the directors have thought some changes necessary in view of the experience of ten years.

In the twelve years since the Commercial club was organized there has been a change in many commercial organizations over the country. it cost to run the old plant recently destroyed by fire.

Among the different places where plans similar to the one suggested by the consulting engineer are in use are Clarkfield, Minn., Turtle Lake, Wis., Menasha, N. D., Glenwood, Wis., French River, Minn., and Frederick, Wis.

The commission is thinking its time now to take the matter of reconstructing the plant to get some state, individual or corporation to build and buy or lease the electric light lines. It is understood that it would be possible to fit into a box factory concern to take over the present remains of the old plant, use the stores and light the new plant, and keep the water for the city at stated amount, provided they will be occupied exclusively by employees of the steel company.

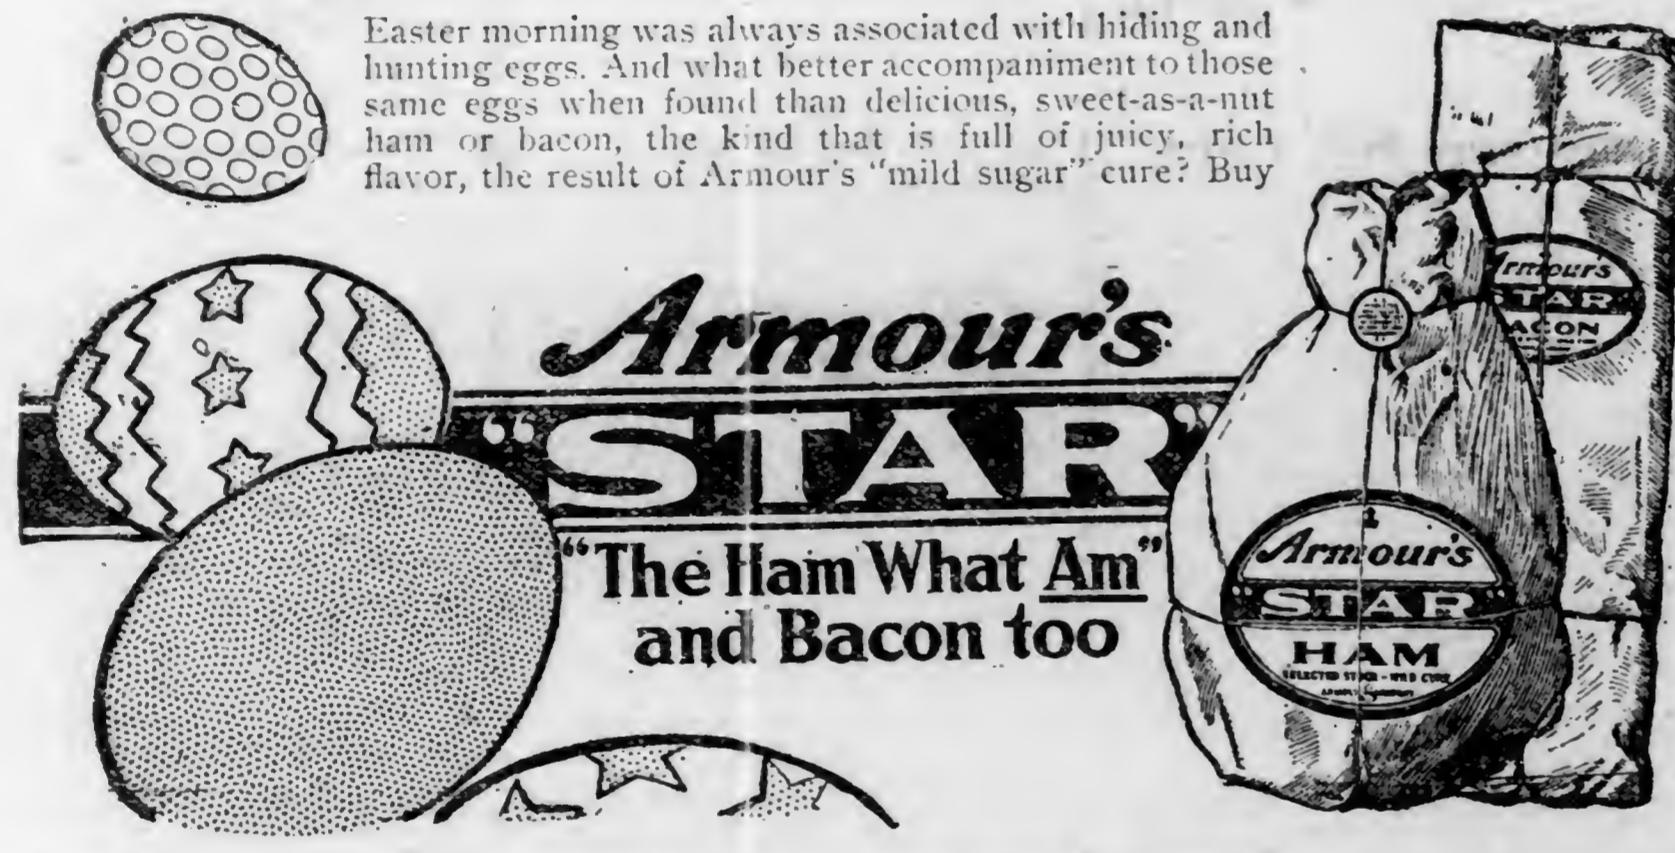

The club will hold its annual election of officers on Tuesday evening, April 14. The meeting will be held in the clubrooms.

MOVES INTO MODEL TOWN

John P. McLimans First to Move on to Steel Plant Site.

Nearly 100 Residences Are Now About Ready for Occupancy.

The model city being constructed by the Minnesota Steel company near Spirit Lake yesterday received its first family. The family of John P. McLimans, formerly residing at 4711 Huntington street, moved to the new town and holds the distinction of being the first arrivals.

Nearly 100 residences are now about ready to receive occupants in the new city. At present there are also about six additional basements under construction and are due to be completed June 1, when the exodus to the new village will have filled up the new street. Burial will be in Forest Hill cemetery.

In Police Court.

John King and William McCann were given three hours to leave the city before trial in police court this morning. The men had been arrested for trespassing in the railroad yards in the Canfield neighborhood. They were considered undesirable. A sentence of thirty days on the work farm was suspended providing the men would set out to dry.

B. Farrell who also pleaded guilty to a similar charge was given six hours to leave the city in the person of a simple sentence in the work farm.

J. J. Ellie, a farmer residing on the Maple Grove road, was arrested this morning on a charge of having a number of clover and timothy hay. He will be given a hearing in police court this afternoon.

Ed Talbot, clerk in a poolroom at Central avenue and Ramsey street, will be held this afternoon.

Talbot is charged with allowing minors to play in the poolroom.

Book Club Meets.

The West Duluth Book club entertained this afternoon at a literary session at the West Duluth poolroom. A feature of the program was a reading of Clyde Fitch's play, "The Truth," by Miss Mary Macgregor. The program by Miss Macgregor was followed by vocal recitations by Miss Fern Brooks and piano numbers by Miss Esther Larson.

Semi-Weekly Meetings.

Rev. A. E. Arnesen, the new pastor of the First Congregational Church Free church of Superior, will begin holding meetings next Sunday in the church on Fifty-fourth street west and Bristol.

Rev. Arnesen is planning two meetings in the week, on Sunday afternoon at 8 p. m. and he invites all Scandinavians to these meetings, as nothing but the Scandinavian language will be used.

Rev. Arnesen is graduate of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Sunday School Banquet.

The Sunday school of the Asbury Methodist church has planned a banquet for its members on April 17. The banquet is the result of a membership campaign between the director of the school with the red division the winners.

The banquet will be served by the blue division.

The following Committees will be in charge of the affair: General committee, Byron Brooks; Miss Johanna Carlson, Mrs. Albert Johnson; Miss Gilbert and Floyd Williams; Finance committee, I. G. Wollan, A. A. Mohaupt, Robert Clark, Byron Brooks; supplies, Mrs. May, Mrs. M. G. Everett; Misses May, Williams, Miss Addie Norman, Miss Nellie Anderson, Rev. W. H. For all members of the antlered herd, all trails will lead to the Elks' club at 311 West First street tomorrow night.

For tomorrow night the newly elected officers will be installed by William S. McCormick, past exalted ruler, and a program has been prepared which will make the occasion one long to be remembered.

The newly-organized Elks' quartet,

George S. Munsey, John A. Doran and Frank Clark, will entertain.

The newly-constituted officers are: Neil Morrison, exalted ruler; John E. Santuelson, leading knight; J. A. McLoch, loyal knight; W. J. North, lecturer; Rev. C. B. McTague, treasurer; W. H. Alexander, trustee; Jerry Seaman, auditor. Miss Alberta Fillastrau is the retiring exalted ruler.

Following the installation and the program the lodge will adjourn for a social session, for which extra preparations have been made.

TOWN OF COOK GETS RURAL ROUTE

Parcel Post Is Expected to Boost Business There.

According to information received from the postoffice authorities at Cook, Minn., that industrial community will have a rural route May 1.

The town of Cook and its surrounding country are reported by Postmaster O. J. Leeding to be in a condition to warrant a rural route. The prosperity and population of the town is increasing every year. New settlers say they are moving in in large numbers this spring and many settlers who have not come for four or five years ago, are returning.

Until recently hay was the chief agricultural product produced by the town, but with the raising of pasture and stock has begun to get a firm foothold. The establishment of a grain elevator with the consequent advantages is expected to promote stock and poultry culture as never before.

County Board Approves Engineer's Estimate and Viewers' Report.

County Auditor Odin Halden was yesterday afternoon directed by the board of county commissioners to advertise for bids for the construction of County Ditch No. 2.

After an all-day session of the board, the commissioners approved the engineer's estimate and the viewers' report. Beginning at 10 o'clock yesterday morning and extending through to 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, board members came from a number of Meadowlands farmers who appeared before the board to protest against the assessment of benefit made against their property by the board of viewers. The viewers' report was received subject to the trial.

YALE MEN DECLINE TO DEBATE WOMEN

New Haven, Conn., March 31.—The winning team in the Yale debate on women's suffrage has declined to debate the women of the White Face and St. Louis rivers. The world calls for the excavation of 500,000 cubic yards of earth twenty-four miles of clearing and grubbing, twenty-two miles of road grading and the construction of twelve to thirty small bridges. FREIGHT NOW ON INCREASE Shipments of Merchandise to West Make Good Showing.

Railway Extensions Are Planned for North Dakota and Montana.

A substantial increase is being shown in the volume of freight being handled here of late, according to statements of local officials of the railroad commission.

The snow of last week was a boon to timber operators in this district, resulting in a large tonnage of forest products being rushed out from the camps that would otherwise have been held up.

Spring shipments of general merchandise from here over the West and points in Northern Minnesota are said to be making a fair comparison with last year. That is taken to prove that the purchasing power of the farmers has improved and that a larger percentage of the business is being handled from the Head of the Lakes.

While traffic has been slow in building up some seasons the volume of grain has been increasing, he said. "These cars are going out regardless of tonnage, and while the company is still actually losing money on a proportion of them, we are picking up the general results. We feel that the jobbing houses here are appreciating that the service is enabling them to do a better business than they had been previously excluded. Some cars that carried only small tonnages a year ago, are now being handled on a regular basis."

"We recently placed in operation a tri-weekly package freight car service between here and St. Paul, connecting with the two cities. This car is sent out from here by freight and is dropped off at Coon Creek, where it is picked up by local freight a few hours later and taken on to its destination.

Extension For West.

Additional factories and extensions will probably be built by the Great Northern in North Dakota and Montana during the present year. In addition is included the carrying to completion of its extension from Rockford to Lewiston, Mont. A stretch of 100 miles, the main line between Snowden and Sidney, opened last fall, is said to be already developing a good traffic. A branch from Fairview, Mont., to Thompson, Mont., 44 miles in length and another from

INTERESTING PEOPLE WHO ARE DOING INTERESTING WORK HERE

Whether it rains or shines, snows or hails, and whether it is cold or hot, Patrolman George Wood is to be found at the corner of Third avenue west and Superior Street, regulating the traffic at Duluth's busiest corner.

Although he ranks merely as a patrolman, Officer Wood has a hard day on his hands. He must not only be on the lookout for law violators, but he must stand on the Third avenue corner and regulate the traffic so that it does not become congested. And while he is on the job, it might be added, that he never does receive compensation.

Patrolman Wood was appointed in 1909 and since then has made an excellent record. It is this record of record that caused him to be stationed on Duluth's most important corner.

And besides acting as traffic officer, Patrolman Wood is daily making valuable information bureau of Superior Street. Hundreds of men, women and children step up to him daily to ask the location of the Post Office, the telephone office, the drug store, the bank, the post office building. He probably assists more frightened women, feeble old people and lost children than any other ten men in the city.

Patrolman Wood was appointed in 1909 and since then has

Mrs. BUELL WINS IN ATTORNEYS' FIGHT

Will Receive $518.66 as Fees in Suits Against

D. & I. R.

In a three-cornered fight among attorneys for fees for legal services performed, Mrs. I. C. Buell has come out a winner over J. Da La Motte and J. W. Reynolds. We two other local attorneys.

In district court yesterday afternoon, Judge Ben Fesler tried an action between Mrs. Buell $518.66 from funds in his hands collected in three suits against the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company.

The court finds that Mrs. Buell was employed by Andrew Carlson, Englishman, an attorney at Sault to bring suit against the railroad company for damages resulting from a fire which swept over his property during the dry season of 1910.

Judge Fesler finds that the fact that

De La Motte and Reynolds had settled their case before the trial and that the court had no jurisdiction in the case, the court ruled that the litigation did not deprive Mrs. Buell of her fees.

Eats Freely But Has No Dyspepsia

A Little Pepin in a Mild Laxative Promptly Corrected a Bad Indigestion.

Fortunate is the one who can eat "anything" without suffering the tortures of dyspepsia, but as few are so fortunate, care should be taken in the manner of eating, thus digesting, masticating the food thoroughly and taking a short walk after the heavy meal of the day. This is always a help in digestion. Any grown-up person ought to know the peculiar foods that do not agree, and these should be avoided.

With such a common ailment as dyspepsia, the next thing to do is to take a mild digestive tonic with laxative properties and astringent properties better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepin. It contains the greatest of all aids to digestion, good pepin, and has other ingredients that act mildly on the bowels, which together form a combination for the relief of dyspepsia or indigestion that is unequalled.

Its action is to tone and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they can do their work naturally with comfort and ease, and with that happy moment comes all medicine that can be dispensed with. It is the best remedy for dyspepsia, for the organs of the stomach, liver and bowels, for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headaches, drowsiness, after meals, etc.

It is a safe and pleasant medicine, and the use of it is a guarantee of health.

WOULD REVISE THE ENGLISH GOVERNMENT

Sir Edward Grey Says Country Is Likely to "Go Under."

Suggests to Commons That Federal System Be Adopted.

London, March 31.—The establishment of a Federal system of government for the British Isles was suggested to the house of commons to-day by Sir Edward Grey as a solution of the home rule difficulties.

The suggestion was received with great attention by the house, which was engaged in debate on the second reading of the home rule bill.

"It will be said Sir Edward, 'that if our present difficulty is not solved by the introduction of a Federal system, there is no way to avoid the sheer inability of parliament to transact its business,'" said Sir Edward Grey put forward a hint that the time had come when it was ready to go to the country for a general election if parliament would enact its bills abolishing home rule and giving home rule to Ireland and disestablishing the Welsh church.

"On the terms on offering the abolition of plural voting and of placing home rule on the statute books the method would be worthy of consideration."

This was decided at a meeting of the Illinois mine workers here. The president of the miners' association, John E. White, president of the United Mine Workers, accused the operators of pulling wires in an endeavor to force a general strike. Some of the national organizations might not be able to meet the demands now placed upon them in the United States.

Operators here said that a general lockout was improbable, although the miners were to strike after April 1 on account of the limited demand for coal at the present time.

West Virginians to Quit. Wheeling, W. Va., March 31.—Ten thousand men in coal mines in Belmont and Jefferson counties will walk out tonight, pending the negotiation of a new contract. The expiration of the one of the scale which expires April 1, according to announcement of officials of the United Mine Workers of America here.

Pittsburg District Agreement. Pittsburgh, Pa., March 31.—A continuation of mining operations in the Pittsburg district is assured by the action of operators in the district and the office of the district No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, in reaching an agreement yesterday. At a meeting of miners and operators and miners it was decided to continue the Cleveland scale, now in force, for another two years.

Conrad Richardson, this noon gave out the following figures as made up the Beaufort scale:

Wind	Miles per hour
Calm	0 to 3
Light air	3 to 6
Light breeze	6 to 12
Gentle breeze	12 to 18
Moderate breeze	18 to 23
Strong breeze	23 to 34
Moderate gale	34 to 40
Fresh gale	40 to 48
Whole gale	48 to 65
Storm	65 to 75
Hurricane	75 and over

An example of the use of this scale follows: "Increasing south wind shifting to moderate northwest gale, south breeze increasing to fresh gale."

WILL WARN MARINERS

Beaufort Scale Will Be Used in Making Wind Reports.

Beginning tomorrow vessel owners are to receive daily wind reports, according to the Beaufort scale, from the local weather bureau. This is in conjunction with a new ruling of the bureau at Washington and has been established to protect shipping interests on the Great Lakes.

Conrad Richardson, W. Richardson, president of the miners' association, will be in his daily weather report an item on the condition of the winds and in this way local vessel owners will be enabled to avoid serious accidents to their ships during storms. The approach of storms will be heralded also and should aid in lessening the storm losses for the coming season.

The Beaufort scale is now used by the British navy and has been adopted by the American coast guard for a number of years to protect shipping. The introduction of this scale in this country is considered quite a step forward by shipping interests.

CLOSE OHIO COAL MINES

Cleveland, Ohio, March 31.—"Every mine in Ohio will be closed at 3:30 this afternoon," said C. L. Cunningham of the Western Coal Company here today. Continuing he said:

"No one can tell how long they will remain closed. The anti-sweat law means the ruination of the Ohio coal industry. The mine run basis of payment is absolutely impossible, as it results in depreciation of the quality of the coal. The miners here who cannot compete with other states where miners are paid on the lump sum basis."

but now it is considered really essential to see that the needs are placed in proper surroundings so that their condition may be permanently bettered. I am not opposed to dancing, but I believe dancing should be conducted properly just as should pool and billiard halls, theaters and other places of amusement. What should be beneficial is often harmful, because it is not properly managed and regulated.

WILL LAY CORNER STONE OF CHURCH

Special Exercises Will Be Held By Trinity Congregation.

The program for the laying of the cornerstone and dedication will be held at the basement of the Trinity English Lutheran church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street, is complete. The leading Lutheran congregations of Duluth and Superior will take part.

The cornerstone will be laid following a program to be held in the church beginning at 2:30 o'clock Sunday, April 1. Dr. C. G. Mattson, president of the Minnesota state conference for Lutheran churches, will lay the stone. He will be assisted by Dr. John A. Kranz, pastor of the First Swedish Lutheran church, and president of the conference for a number of years.

Dr. Frank Nelson of Minneapolis, president of the Minnesota college will be one of the principal speakers during the afternoon. Remarks will also be made by Rev. C. G. Mattson, Dr. Dahlstrom, pastor of the First Swedish Lutheran church and Rev. J. M. Norvig, of the Zion Norwegian church. Rev. O. O. Nelson and Rev. A. Theodore Ekblad of Superior will also take part in the program.

The following is the afternoon's program:

Song—"Jubilate Deo" in D. Trinity Choir.

Laying of the cornerstones by Dr. Mattson, assisted by Dr. Kranz, Dr. Ekblad of Superior and Dr. Mattson. The combined choirs of the First, Second and Trinity churches will sing. The duet selection will be given by Mrs. E. Eltonson and Mrs. A. Logren.

Rev. E. Hanssen, president of the college announced that a special program is also being arranged for Easter Sunday and that a large number of new members would be taken into the church at that time.

WILL ENLARGE
BAPTIST CHURCH

West End Congregation Is Outgrowing Its Present Quarters.

At the quarterly meeting of the congregation of the Central Baptist church, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, the trustees of the church were authorized to plan the building fund for the enlargement of the church. The building is said to be too small to properly handle the congregation and Sunday school.

The report of the Sunday school showed that the school had an average attendance of 184 pupils and that this number so filled the rooms that it was necessary to add additional members. The addition to the church will relieve this condition.

The report of the church treasurer indicated that the financial condition of the church was the best in its history. The church is free from debt and has a healthy balance on hand.

Plans were made for holding revival services for a period of three weeks beginning April 29. Rev. H. Rasmussen of Kasson, Minn., will assist Rev. Milton Fish in these services.

Revivals will be held in the church.

Albert Dahlstrom to fight the case against him kindly met at half past 11 West First St. Tuesday, March 31, and Friday, April 3, at 8 o'clock.

CULT WOULD AID ITS FOUNDER

May Raise Funds Here for
"Rev." Dahlquist,
White Slaver.

Followers of the "Hedda" cult, founded by "Rev." Albert Dahlquist in the West end, intend coming to his rescue and raising funds for a new trial at Seattle. Dahlquist had recently convicted under the Mann white slave act for his practices on the West coast.

A meeting will be held by his followers this evening at which the proposition to raise the funds will be taken up.

Rev. John J. Daniels, pastor of the Swedish Mission church, who was one of the witnesses called against the man during trial last morning, said Dahlquist had claimed he had 10,000 followers throughout the country.

It is probable that he has not, but it is reported said Mr. Daniels, "and most of those are foolish women."

Young man's divorce wife, Martha, testified that she had seen the names of thirty-two women, mostly girls, whom the man had married according to rites performed in Indian villages of this country. She served through throughout the country.

He deserves no sympathy from any one,"

Guild Will Entertain.

The Rebekah Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church will be entertained in the parlors of the church Thursday evening instead of Wednesday as originally planned. Mrs. G. H. Dahlquist and Mrs. Olaf Johnson will be hosts.

The St. Luke's guild of the church will entertain a luncheon at noon at another of its Lenten teas.

Seattle, Wash., March 31.—United States District Judge Jeremiah Nester has imposed a sentence of five years in the McNeil Island penitentiary upon Albert Dahlstrom, formerly of the Dahlstrom, a fugitive from known to be two weeks ago of violating the Mann anti-white slave act by kidnapping Rev. Ernest of Tennessee from Fresno, Cal., to this state in October, 1913. In the trial, government agents testified that

W. T. BAILEY
SUMMONED

Pioneer Duluth Lumberman Passes Away at Rochester, Minn.

Death Comes Before He Goes Under the Surgeon's Knife.

William T. Bailey, 73 years old, one of Duluth's pioneer citizens, died at 9:50 o'clock this morning at St. Mary's hospital at Rochester, Minn., where he was two weeks ago for an operation.

Mr. Bailey was never operated upon, the doctors having been compelled to postpone the use of the knife owing to the patient's weakened condition.
He was cared for at the hospital, where it was thought he would regain his health and sufficient strength to undergo the operation. He sank rapidly, however, and the end came.

A message to the effect that Mr.
Bailey was in a critical condition and that all hope for recovery was given to repudiate the Democratic platform.

The administration, Representative

Humphrey declared, had been imposed upon "to carry out the revolution of the masses" with Japan and England going to secure the use of the canal without compensation.

Speech by Gen.

Republican Leader Mann told the house that three questions were in-olved in a repeal of the Panama tolls apart from treaty construction and the economic policy involved.

The economic question might be changed at any time and a decision on treaty rights must be a lasting one.

He maintained that no construction of the Hay-Paolo treaty could be imposed on the United States to charge the same tolls on our ships or those of Panama as were levied on those of other nations.

"A reading of the rules to be observed by nations to receive equal treatment," he said, "plainly discloses to England the right to be平等 with us in war with other countries."

War "Inevitable."

"War is not desirable, but it is inevitable. We cannot always maintain peace."

"We agree now," he said, "that the English construction will sustain that in the future when we have a war with

Japan, or China, or some other country, questions will arise in reference to the canal especially as to war vessels, and in that time of stress we will be met with the contention by England—the president of the United States—by some other country, that we have already constructed the treaty in such a way as to cause trouble to us when we bring our ships to the port of Panama."

England's attempt to secure the construction of the treaty at this time is not for its own sake. It is for the long distant future. If we construe the treaty according to the English construction we will embarrass ourselves in war with other countries, which will embarrass us when we have war with other countries."

SCORES "ONE MAN" RULE

Attorney McKeon Flays Council in Appeal for Saloon Keeper.

Matel Must Close Saloon; Timlin Expected to Do Likewise.

That the city council is not giving Duluth commission government but that the administration consists of the five one-man governments, was the declaration of Attorney Thomas J. McKeon at the council meeting yesterday afternoon.

The attorney was appearing for Alexander Matel, proprietor of the saloon at 419 West Michigan street, whose license was up for consideration. Commissioner W. A. Hickel had announced that he would recommend that the license not be renewed and following the discussion his application was denied by unanimous vote.

Atks' Weeks' Delay. Attorney McKeon asked the commissioners not to act upon the application at once and to defer it over for one week and do a little investigating for them. He asserted that he was an ardent exponent of commission government and still believes in commission government, but that he is opposed to five one-man governments because the five commissioners are supposed to get together to confer on the various subjects coming before them and to exchange their views on each of them, rather than to ratify the recommendations of one another. He stated that he has visited Superior, Marinette and Michigan street business men and that all of them had testified to the reputability of Matel's saloon as a good business house. He pointed out that a saloon catering to the roughest element could not be a Delmonico and that disorders were not unknown.

Commissioner Hickel stated that his investigation convinced him that the place where the investigation conducted, the wine and beer investigator was there, drunk men were being served with liquor on the floor, while others were in chairs, unable to hold up their heads; that the man presiding over the bunch could not be expected to know what the place was sanitary. Chief Troyer corroborated the report, saying that that was the general character of Matel's saloon.

Action Unanimous. Attorney McKeon repeated his action for a week, but Commissioner Hickel asked for a vote and the license received a unanimous down without a dissenting vote.

Mayor Prince told the attorney that it would be impossible for him to have time to come and investigate each of the 170 saloon licenses coming up for consideration and that the council was not in a position to urge that the commissioner into whose special jurisdiction that duty fell, as was the case with many other questions upon which the council voted.

Action was postponed one week upon the application of M. R. Timlin for a license to operate a restaurant on a corner of Superior and 30th Avenue, West Duluth. Timlin has engaged Attorney E. McManus to represent him so that the license will be issued on Monday. The meeting will see another display of oratorical pyrotechnics based on the saloon question. One motion was carried and announced that he will recommend that this application also be refused.

CROW WING HAS MORE LIVESTOCK

Brainerd, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—The livestock industry of Crow Wing County is growing, particularly in the dairy cattle line. Four years ago there was hardly a Holstein animal in the country, but today there are six thousand herds. The Holsteins of today are not what they were twenty or thirty years ago, however, for the cows are larger, better built, heavier in quantity of milk produced and in size. This was evidenced a few days ago when J. M. Elder sold another, this time to one of his neighbors, who proved to be unprofitable milk producers. The six weighed 7,875 pounds, an average of 1,575 pounds each. These cows were replaced by eight from the W. S. Moscrip farm and are daughters of the great Sir Best. Crow Wing, Netherlands, F. H. Grunhaven has a sire from the same great producer.

WILEY LAUDS OFFSPRING

Pure Food Advocate Tells About His 23-Month-Old Infant.

Madison, Wis., March 31.—Dr. H. W. Wiley, pure food advocate, who is here this week, says his 23-month-old boy speaks Latin as well as English. "The prone training for infants and young children," he said, "is a good plan for the young language. His greatest delight—from the standpoint of his father—is when he is talking with his mother, reciting his daily lesson in Latin, which he much enjoys."

"Harvey W. Wiley II has never had any meat or poultry, ice cream, sweet cookies or other foods of that kind. I need not add that he has never had any tea, coffee, chocolate, beer, wine or whisky. As a perfectly developed boy, enjoys life immensely and eats his meals by the uniform name of dinner."

Addressees Brainerd Nurses.

Brainerd, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—Helen Wadsworth of Minneapolis, a representative of the state association of graduate nurses, addressed six hundred local nurses at a meeting held in the parlors of a local hotel speaking on state registration of nurses. The nurses were her guests at a noon luncheon at the hotel.

How to Look Years Less Than Your Age

The most speed fad will look younger after the use of ordinary mercurialized wax for ten days to two weeks. This remarkable substance, because of its peculiar properties, actually removes the thin veil of faded or withered outer cuticle, a little at a time. Gradually the freshened, clear skin underneath is revealed. This absorption process being a purely hygienic one, an entirely natural complexion is obtained, free from the artificial complexion, which appears anything but girlish, though often bearing the evidences of old age. An ounce of mercurialized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is sufficient to rejuvenate any complexion. It is put on like cold cream at night and removed mornings with warm water.

To eradicate such age marks as wrinkles, furrows, etc., wax is melted by dissolving 1 oz. powdered resinite in 1 oz. water. This has wonderful astringent and tonic properties, especially when applied to the skin, making the skin firm, smooth and young looking—Advertisement.

FOR GREATER EFFICIENCY IN TYPEWRITING

New and Important Policy Recently Introduced By a Leading Type-writer Company—Valuable Prizes Offered to Efficient Typewriter Operators.

"Efficiency" is the latest idea—the very last word—in business. Greater Efficiency is the demand of the age, in manufacturing, in selling, in office management, in everything.

Several big concerns have already established themselves as leaders in the new efficiency movement, and naturally, among these leaders is the concern which a generation ago started the era of time and labor saving in the business office.

"For Greater Efficiency in Typewriting" is the new slogan of the Remington Typewriter Company. This slogan describes an extended program adopted by the Company in the interest of the typewriter user, a program which represents a big investment of time, labor and expense.

The idea which underlies this new program is that the interests and the duties of the manufacturer do not end with the mere efficiency of the machine it manufactures and sells. It extends to every other factor which may increase or diminish the efficiency of that machine and its value to the buyer. In the case of the typewriter the three principal factors which contribute to the net result are the machine, the operator and the conditions under which the operator works.

First of all it is necessary to correct some erroneous notions as to what constitutes efficiency in typewriting service. One of these notions is that the sole test of efficiency is the speed of the operator. Nothing could be further from the truth. There is only one test of the operator's efficiency and that is the value of the day's work, and this is determined by several factors, the chief of which is ACCURACY.

You select a fast operator, who makes a mistake or two on nearly every page, loses so much time in correcting these mistakes, or worse still, in rewriting matter which cannot be corrected; that her day's work is always smaller than that of the operator of only moderate speed whose work is accurate. A fair measure of speed is taken for granted in the case of every experienced operator, but there is never any guarantee of accuracy unless the operator has been trained to be accurate—either self-trained or trained by others. It is along these lines therefore that the Remington Typewriter Company's new program is directed, with the idea and purpose of increasing the efficiency, the value and the earning power of every operator of the Company's product.

Atkins' Weeks' Delay. Attorney McKeon repeated his action for a week, but Commissioner Hickel asked for a vote and the license received a unanimous down without a dissenting vote.

Mayor Prince told the attorney that it would be impossible for him to have time to come and investigate each of the 170 saloon licenses coming up for consideration and that the council was not in a position to urge that the commissioner into whose special jurisdiction that duty fell, as was the case with many other questions upon which the council voted.

"ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY" IN POLITICS.

And now, as one of the queer developments of political exigency, we hear from the supporters of the Eberhart administration that there isn't so very much to this talk of waste and extravagance in state affairs after all.

Just a little while ago all these Eberhart supporters were joining in the chorus of amazement and disgust at the revelations of high state taxes growing out of waste and improvidence in the state government.

It was unanimous, then.

But these partisans to whom a faction's prosperity weighs more heavily than the state's good have discovered something—they have discovered that much of this tremendous increase in state expenses has come about while Mr. Eberhart was governor and they were in power.

So now, their voices in unison like the notes of an organ operated by machinery, they are loudly declaring that there isn't so much to all that talk about waste and high taxes as there seemed to be.

It is simply another example of what happens to important questions when they get into politics of the gaudy, self-seeking, machine-promoting and machine-promoted kind.

The facts are not changed. Minnesota still stands supreme among the states for increase in state expenditures and for increase in the state tax rate.

The issue is not diminished in importance. The introduction of methods of efficiency and economy in state government is still the most vital issue before the state.

These facts must not be obscured by the later fact that political faction somewhat belatedly has discovered that it had better not let the high tax rate talk get too prominent, particularly liable to the adversity of sickness because they are not sufficiently nourished.

And when they get sick—what then? Their homes are not proper places for the care of very sick people. They haven't money enough to go to a private hospital. What then?

Let those who have not yet been convinced of the need of a city and county hospital investigate that question.

A local social worker gives The Herald an example.

A working woman, the principal wage-earner and support of a family, confided to this social worker that her small boy of ten, who had always been exceptionally bright in school, was showing signs of nervousness and was lagging in his studies. She thought that a slight operation would mean to that lad the difference between success and failure in life.

But the woman had no money for the operation or for the hospital care of the child. Finally the social worker had the operation performed through the public school system; but of course the boy had to go to bed for a time. The mother had to stay home and care for him because there was a drunken husband whom she did not dare to trust. And in this way the mother lost the price of a ton of coal—which is as though the ordinary household lost six months' salary.

So, in the natural and inevitable course of events, that mother had to ask the charitable agencies for relief—which, whether it came from private generosity or through taxation, was an economic loss that could have been avoided.

If there had been a city and county hospital, the boy could have been sent there and treated, the mother could have kept up with her work, and the charitable agencies never would have had to help her solve her problem.

The more one sees of Champ Clark's work on this canal tolls business, the less we feel sorry for that dawg of his.

And again, why not import Col. Seely to be police commissioner of New York city?

DOLLAR AND A HALF MOVIE SHOWS.

It is related that in Europe the great moving picture shows are rated as high class entertainments, on a par with the theaters, and that corresponding prices are charged. Hence comes a prediction that in a few years Americans will be paying a dollar and a half for a seat in moving picture houses.

It would be venturesome indeed to set a limit on the development of the movie, but requires a very elastic imagination to picture the fulfillment of this prophecy.

In the first place, there is no expense to justify it. While the initial expense of a moving picture film may be large, the subsequent expense is small; and the multiplication of films from the same picture makes it possible to show the same feature all over the world at a trifling additional cost.

In the second place, though Americans are pouring nickels and dimes into the coffers of the owners of the movies, and here and there quarters, they are not likely to become so enthralled with the moving picture as to pay a dollar and a half to see it.

But maybe if the dollar and a half movie came about, it would be a good thing in a way; certainly it would stimulate the business of the legitimate theater, which undoubtedly has suffered greatly from the competition of the motion picture. And we cannot afford to lose the drama.

The motion picture has come to stay, and it will be expanded and developed. Moreover, it is becoming clear that it will have to be regulated more, too, because it is profitless to forbid our young people to read contamination and deteriorating literature, and then let them get the same stuff into their minds more vividly through the sensational motion picture.

But it takes a very far-fetched flight of the imagination to see many people paying a dollar and a half to see the best motion picture show imaginable.

Wisconsin is sending convicts to build the new reformatory at Fond du Lac. Something after the principle of sending a naughty boy to cut the switch.

THE NEED OF A CITY AND COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Have those who are now first studying the need of a city and county hospital ever stopped to realize how narrow is the margin that separates a great many people all about them from the ignominy of pauperism?

When they are well and able to work and have work to do they can struggle along, in a fair degree of comfort. But they are not able to lay down, a store against the day of adversity.

These unfortunates—and it would be distressing to count how large a proportion of us they constitute—are particularly liable to the adversity of sickness because they are not sufficiently nourished.

And when they get sick—what then? Their homes are not proper places for the care of very sick people. They haven't money enough to go to a private hospital. What then?

Let those who have not yet been convinced of the need of a city and county hospital investigate that question.

A local social worker gives The Herald an example.

A working woman, the principal wage-earner and support of a family, confided to this social worker that her small boy of ten, who had always been exceptionally bright in school, was showing signs of nervousness and was lagging in his studies. She thought that a slight operation would mean to that lad the difference between success and failure in life.

But the woman had no money for the operation or for the hospital care of the child. Finally the social worker had the operation performed through the public school system; but of course the boy had to go to bed for a time. The mother had to stay home and care for him because there was a drunken husband whom she did not dare to trust. And in this way the mother lost the price of a ton of coal—which is as though the ordinary household lost six months' salary.

So, in the natural and inevitable course of events, that mother had to ask the charitable agencies for relief—which, whether it came from private generosity or through taxation, was an economic loss that could have been avoided.

If there had been a city and county hospital, the boy could have been sent there and treated, the mother could have kept up with her work, and the charitable agencies never would have had to help her solve her problem.

The more one sees of Champ Clark's work on this canal tolls business, the less we feel sorry for that dawg of his.

And again, why not import Col. Seely to be police commissioner of New York city?

Boston Advertiser: That boy, who stood on the burning deck, has been eclipsed by the girl who sat on the switchboard when the building was burning. The girl accomplished a good deal more than a good example, too.

Shrubbery in Every Yard

From the New York Post.

Every place needs shrubbery. Shrubbery to the yard, what the irregular conformation of the earthy surface in flats after coming from the hill country, wrote, "What a heartache! Ne'er a hill!" and the poet might just as well have made this exclamation over a yard bank as over a hill.

All famous and beautiful gardens are alike in this respect, in that they make use of shrubs. They serve at once the demands of beauty, and, it may be, of fragrance.

Moreover, they are among those gracious things that grow from year to year, and grant to the gardener the boon of increasing beauty, and that charm, the sense of established place.

It is common objection to hear your garden say that his yard is not large enough to accommodate shrubs.

This is a first rate fallacy. There is no yard too small, and none which cannot be improved by a judicious planting.

Think for a moment of that bare front corner to your house. How much its appearance would be improved if there were, for instance, three spreading shrubs trained in an "L" in that spot, marking the boundary, and the back, the outline of a curved walk or the corners of a straight one. Then, too, there must be some unsightly pole or rail where a taller shrub could serve its temporary purpose of screening out things.

In shrubbery are all other things pertaining to the garden, the observation of experiments and attempt will repay the planter. Look about you as you go, observe and learn. Do not be too great a hasty to buy and put your shrubs in the ground. Forethought is more needed in this venture than in the planting, say, of small flowers. A season of careful thought, upon reflection with imagination, is the best preparation for the selection and arrangement of your shrubbery.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian or party questions will not be allowed. Letters must be written on one side of the paper only, and the name and address of the writer should these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

PERHAPS HE'S RIGHT.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Permit me to suggest as the correct answer to your question, the problem of your column of this evening's paper—the following figures: $12,349,672.95. Respectfully,

THE SMOKE PROBLEM.

To the Editor of The Herald:
The following is an extract from a book recently written and published in Chicago, Ill., which you may print in the Open Court or any place in the paper you wish:

"A trace of smoke is probably the most common of all the causes of smoke. The grates must be at such a distance below the heating surface that the boiler that the flame will burn out before the relatively cold metal is reduced to any cold substance, a piece of glass for instance, and hold it in the flame of a gas jet. There will be a deposit of carbon in one end. If you smoke is caused by the burning of the flue, then the cold surfaces of the boiler, you will find very little C. O. in the gases perhaps none whatever, although there may be a great quantity of soot.

"Smoke means waste, of course, but there is very little fuel value in the finely divided carbon that colors the chimney gases.

"A chimney that is making no smoke at all may be throwing out more actual smoke than one that is a bad smoker."

"But assuming that there is an appreciable quantity of real combustible in the chimney gases, can we eliminate it without sustaining a loss? Let us consider the savings. If you save $2 by burning up the combustible gases and lose $4 by heating the excess air that is incidental to the process, how much of a gainer are you?"

"To burn soft coal, unless it is a simple matter to burn it, it is smokeless at the same time economically is up another street altogether. If the men who are selling 'smokeless furnaces' were compelled to put their devices up against a gas burner, nine-tenths of them would go out of business."

THE GARBAGE PLAN.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Some time ago a certain laboring class was facing a problem of taxing and tagging in order to make their living which at that time seemed to be bad enough, but now there is another that seems to be still worse. Those facing it are likely to be deprived of their means by which they make the bread for themselves and theirs. Mr. Hicken has a job that gives a fairly good salary and persons wouldn't miss it. It is a very nice job, but I am sure that those who are working at garbage and dirt removing wouldn't feel the same way if they were stopped doing it. To all appearances it seems to be a rather important fact that the existing law and its caption does not seem right that a taxpayer, or any other payer for that matter, shall be forced from making a living as long as he makes it in an honest and lawful way."

"Other citizens have experienced that the less work done on a contracting basis, the better for all concerned. Duluth does not need that experience. We all know it if we don't. Mr. Hicken is about saving money for the city; he is surely joking. There is no indication of such a thing whatever in any way by different things done and undone in the past. Hoping I am not offending in giving my opinion, yours for a right and proportionate charge. A READER.

THE KENWOOD ROADS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
As an aftermath of the meeting of the Kenwood Park club last Saturday night this might be an opportune time to say a few words regarding the roads and bridges and general repairs of the Howard and Giesen road.

From my observation, having gone over practically the entire road around Duluth during the last couple of years, this is indeed a very much neglected road. The Stock Farm road, which has about one-half as many farmers living on it, has been put into the same class with our own roads, having an extremely wide roadbed with crushed rock surface, massive concrete bridges, and with the hills practically all taken down. Now, I cannot see the reason for this unless it is favor of the large interests like the stock farm or our county commissioners to averse to being jarred (such as he would be if he traveled over the Howard and Giesen road) when he drives out to his own farm, or where his own interests enter.

On the Howard and Giesen road, within six blocks of the Boulevard, are two old dilapidated bridges, evidently too large interests like the stock farm or our county commissioners to averse to being jarred (such as he would be if he traveled over the Howard and Giesen road) when he drives out to his own farm, or where his own interests enter.

INJUNCTION IS REFUSED

City Not Restrained From Enforcing Sholund License Revocation.

Judge Cant in district court late yesterday afternoon announced to McCoy & Hansen, attorneys, that he would deny the application of their client, Charles Sholund, saloon keeper, for a temporary injunction restraining the city authorities from enforcing a revocation of his license to operate his establishment at 101 East Michigan street during the pendency of certain proceedings involving the same case before the supreme court. The formal order denying the injunction, however, has not yet been signed by the court.

The court denied the injunction on one ground urged by attorneys for Sholund, this being that the way of certifying the旨 of the injunction before the supreme court on April 7, operated as a supersedeas or stay of further proceedings. A motion for a stay of the court's judgment of revocation, although the city's action in revoking the license and in attempting to prevent its return from the court, before the supreme court was attacked on three separate grounds, was denied by Judge Cant only on the question of whether or not the writ of certiorari operated as a stay and suspended the injunction.

The other two grounds presented to the court were that the action of the council in the matter of the injunction and that the ordinance under which the revocation proceedings were held is unconstitutional. This ordinance is known as the "no place" ordinance. The court had previously indicated to Sholund's attorneys that should it dispose of the first phase of the question in the affirmative, it would hear arguments on the other two grounds, if desired, before granting or denying the injunction.

Yesterday afternoon, the court indicated to the attorneys that it would be necessary for the pleadings to be amended to cover the other grounds, covering the other grounds of attack. Judge Cant also stated that in view of the fact that the same questions would arise again in the certiorari proceedings before the supreme court, it would be an act of more or less impropriety on his part to base upon questions on which the higher court has already taken jurisdiction.

Charles V. McCoy, attorney for Sholund, said that the third and fourth grounds of attack on the council's action would not be urged in the injunction proceedings but that they would be urged in the certiorari case before the supreme court.

PAYS INHERITANCE TAX OF $8,727

Total Valuation of the D. J. Cutler Estate Is $336,749.

Jane Thomas Cutler, widow of the late Dwight G. Cutler, whose death occurred in this city on May 25, 1913, will pay a tax of $8,727.18 on her inheritance. The amount of the tax was determined by Judge S. W. Gilpin in probate court today.

Dwight G. Cutler, Jr., son and only other heir, is exempt from the payment of a tax on his inheritance. Under the will of his father, he was left $10,000, all of which is exempt from taxation under the inheritance tax law.

The Cutler estate, after deducting expenses of administration, was found by the court to be valued at $336,749.88. Under the terms of the will,

TO RECOVER FRAUD LOSS

City National Bank Files Suit Against Surety Company.

Two Actions Are Brought to Collect Claims for $4,247.67.

Despite the fact that the City National bank was insured against all losses from forged checks and bogus paper, it has been unable to collect certain losses of this character according to suit begun in district court yesterday afternoon.

Two separate causes of action have been started by the bank against the National Surety company of New York in what is believed to be a $4,247.67 loss. The bank claims that the surety company received money for which it agreed to indemnify the bank from losses of such kind, but that in two instances it has failed to make good.

Both losses may be traced back to the operation of C. O. Daniels, the well-known defrauded Harrison-O'Donnell agency, who after becoming heavily involved left the city about a year ago. Seven Duluth business men are to demand full disclosure which they have since been obliged to liquidate.

In one action, the bank is suing for $2,737.67, the amount of a check payable to Emma A. Anschultz, which it is claimed, was forged and cashed by O'Donnell. Daniels was a close friend of Mrs. Anschultz, from the Ancient Order of United Workmen. When this forged name came to the attention of the bank, it instituted suit against the Merchant National Bank of St. Paul and recovered, in view of the fact that the check was drawn on that bank. The City National bank, the local bank, was obliged to reimburse the St. Paul institution.

In another suit, the surety company is asked to pay $1,460, the amount of two checks to which O'Donnell is alleged to have forged the name of George French, administrator of the estate of Daniel Jurchich. The bank also made good this loss.

$2,737.67, the amount of a check payable to Emma A. Anschultz, which it is claimed, was forged and cashed by O'Donnell. Daniels was a close friend of Mrs. Anschultz, from the Ancient Order of United Workmen. When this forged name came to the attention of the bank, it instituted suit against the Merchant National Bank of St. Paul and recovered, in view of the fact that the check was drawn on that bank. The City National bank, the local bank, was obliged to reimburse the St. Paul institution.

In another suit, the surety company is asked to pay $1,460, the amount of two checks to which O'Donnell is alleged to have forged the name of George French, administrator of the estate of Daniel Jurchich. The bank also made good this loss.

TURF MEN STAGE EVENT FOR AUGUST

New York, March 31.—The Futurity, the chief 2-year-old event of the American turf, will be run at Saratoga in August. This announcement was made by the Turf Club here last night.

The race this year, it was stated, was made possible through the contribution of $2,500 of the owners' contribution to the $5,000 guaranteed by the Saratoga Racing Association, making the purse $5,000 as provided for in the conditions of the race.

C.P.TAFT DENIES REPORT

Is Not Negotiating With Mills for Sale of Cubs.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 31.—Charles P. Taft, owner of the controlling interest in the Chicago National League club, today denied a report that he had been negotiating with Herbert S. Mills of Chicago for the sale of his interests in the club.

A local attorney, who claims he is representing Mr. Mills, was authority for the statement that he had taken the matter up with Mr. Taft, but the latter said that while he had placed a price upon his interest in the Chicago club, he had as yet seen fit to pay the price, and the situation remains the same. He said insofar as he knew, he had not conferred with anyone representing Mr. Mills.

Spalding's Baseball Guide Published

The thirty-eighth annual number of the Spalding Official Baseball Guide has made its familiar and dependable appearance. Since the day of its publication, the "Fathers of Baseball," who was its editor for many years, John B. Foster, a former newspaperman and now president of the New York National League Baseball club, has occupied the position. Mr. Foster's experience of thirty years will be reflected in an article on connection with baseball being coincident with the most critical points in the life of the national game.

The contents of the Guide include the usual editorials on important subjects connected with the game, an account of the recent tour around the world of the White Sox, reviews of the season in the National American, the latest by E. Sabourin, C. C. Tamm, and leading minor leagues, and a very instructive article on the art of batting. More alterations in the playing rules have been made, some having been for many seasons past and others being a careful study by all players.

Since its earliest days the Guide has made available to readers of leading players and this year's issue surpasses all previous ones in the variety of illustrations, five pages being devoted to the National and American league clubs and over 150 action pictures of leading players of various organizations, and also showing the world's series of 1913, the playing season of both leagues. Group pictures of many prominent minor league clubs are also shown.

Boat Races Open.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 31.—The Southern championship speed boat races for 1914 opened yesterday. The first, a half-mile trial against time, was won by the Hydro-Bullet of Chicago, which traveled at the rate of 45 miles per hour. Earl C. Davis is the Hydro-Bullet's owner. The first heat in the "contest" for boats of the twenty-five-class, six laps over a two-and-a-half-mile course, was won by the Oregon Kid, owned by S. F. Brock of Portland, Or.

The third and final event of the day, a fifteen-mile handicap race, was won by the Hydro-Bullet, which covered the distance in 29:38.

New Ordinance Submitted By Hicken to Make Lid Tighter.

Protests Against Proposed Garbage Collection Contract Are Filed.

Another ordinance intended to enable the police department to draw tighter the law enforcement policy of the present administration was introduced at the council meeting yesterday afternoon.

The measure makes it unlawful for any person to aid orabet the keeping of unlicensed drinking places, the penalty being a fine not less than $50 nor more than $100 or imprisonment for not less than thirty nor more than eighty-one days.

The author of the bill, Donald McCaskey, Safety Commissioner William A. Hickin, has submitted the failure to secure conviction in several instances of several persons who had been arrested on blind-pigging charges. When tried in police court it developed that they were not proprietors of the alleged "unlicensed" places, but rather were lessees under a lease which gave them the right to conduct a business.

OUR COFFEE IS FADED

This question of coffee drinking by an individual is not one that should be deliberately neglected from a standpoint of health. Neither should everyone who likes coffee feel it is a sin between these two extremes. It is not common for each of us to adopt it, if we like coffee, to drink it. You should, however, not overdrink.

GET THIS FACT, CLEARLY.

Some folks can drink one cup of coffee day without disagreeing with them.

Although the taste of coffee is most delicious and enticing, yet if indulged in this drink is afforded more than once or twice a week at the outside, the system is often thrown out of gear and a minor attack of ill health develops. If you like coffee, and it disagrees with you, you are either drinking too much or the wrong kind.

When the price of coffee is high or rather costly, substitution will be found profitable. In this case, the substitutes for coffee are chicory, ground coffee beans, and when mixed with water, they impart to the latter a strong dark brownish color. If you suspect the coffee you have purchased of being adulterated with chicory, take a teaspoonful of the suspected sample of coffee and throw it in a tumbler of cold water. If the water turns quickly colored a dark brownish red color, then the coffee is certainly adulterated. Chicory contains the substance, which dissolves rapidly in water and produces a deep brownish red color. On the other hand, if the coffee is pure it will float on top of the water for many minutes.

The real coffee grains contain oil. This oil tends to keep the grain afloating upon the cup of coffee.

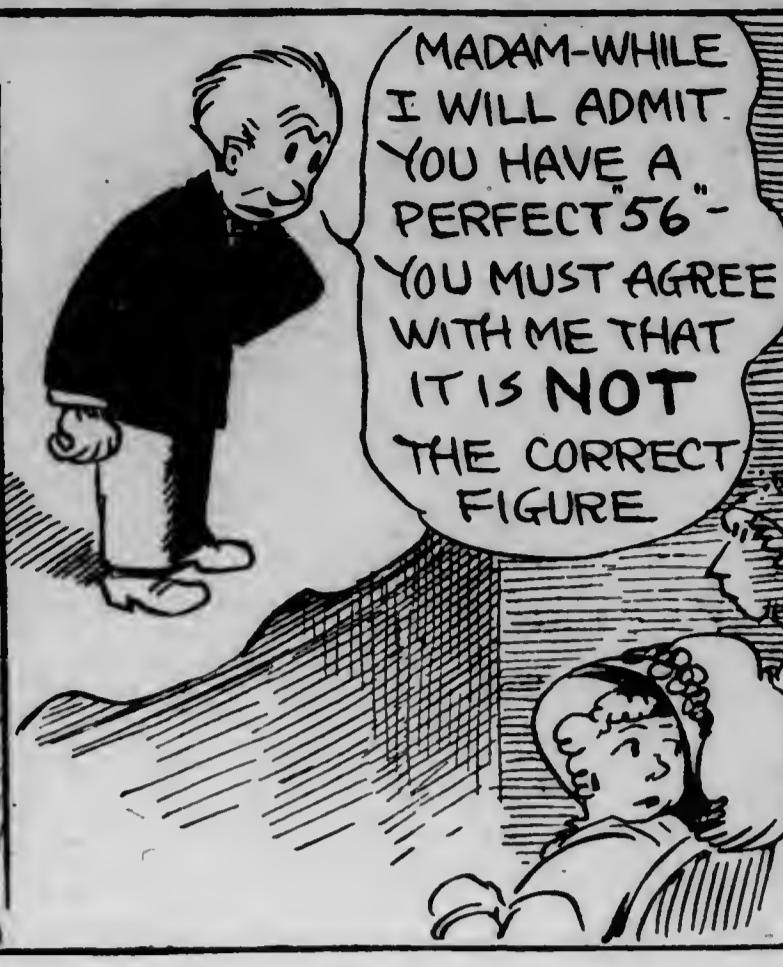

IF YOU REALLY HAVE A STOMACH ULCER.

An inquirer from Bradford, Pa., asks: "What advice would you give to a sufferer for years with nervous dyspepsia?" Some of my prominent symptoms are vertigo, depression, worry and weakness. There are periods of improvement, but after a time the old torment again occurs, until another period of better health. Can this condition be controlled? My stomach is my only trouble."

Defense in Grand Forks Jury Scandal Subpoena Detectives.

Pair Alleged to Figure in Jury Bribing Called
From St. Paul.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—The defense in the alleged jury bribery hearing going on here propose to learn from the two St. Paul detectives that figured in the case how much they really learned from Mahon, who has turned state's evidence on the alleged bribery. The pair have been subpoenaed by the grand jury investigation to tell how they tried to trap Attorney Bans, but admitted he did not make much success.

Bans Called His Bluff.
Attempting to give certain information to State's Attorney Lyche of Twin Cities, Mahon said he had told him to go ahead and do it. Similar efforts had been made to President Wilson to be received by the local United States land office, he said. Born Jan. 1, 1876, he is a graduate of the Mayville, N. D., normal and afterwards taught school for four years. For 12 years he was engaged in business at Barnesville, Minn., with J. V. Bouger and came to Dickinson in 1895, since which time he has been manager of the firm of Bouger & Hughes, engaged in business here. He was married to Miss Nellie Buley in 1903. Mr. Mahon was one of ten delegates from this state to the national Democratic convention at Baltimore.

It was during his period of drinking in St. Paul that he first met Sullivan, who first told the story that brought on present prosecutions. Detective Maley of St. Paul, he said, had the story from Mrs. Sullivan and he never told State's Attorney Lyche from St. Paul by telephone that he would tell him the whole truth. He has gone to him, and Lyche did so. Burtness, too, was in St. Paul conferring with Sullivan, and plans for the work were laid there.

Sullivan's Checks.
Another $100-bonds check issued by Sullivan in St. Paul was cashed there by the Parker Drug company, is said to have been settled through the Pinkerton people in St. Paul. The sum of $1000, or of possession in St. Paul of Sullivan for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Dickinson, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—The receiver of the city, who was appointed last week by President Wilson, to be received of the local United States land office, has resided in North Dakota since 1887. He was born Jan. 1, 1876, graduated from the Mayville, N. D., normal and afterwards taught school for four years. For 12 years he was engaged in business at Barnesville, Minn., with J. V. Bouger and came to Dickinson in 1895, since which time he has been manager of the firm of Bouger & Hughes, engaged in business here. He was married to Miss Nellie Buley in 1903. Mr. Hughes was one of ten delegates from this state to the national Democratic convention at Baltimore.

He was McLain Cooper, not William William, who was with him in his hotel room at Portland. Or, when certain conversations, alleged to have been settled through the Pinkerton people in St. Paul, the sum of $1000, or of possession in St. Paul of Sullivan for obtaining money under false pretenses.

MUCH BUILDING IN NORTH DAKOTA

Contractors Look for Lively Construction Work
This Year.

Fargo, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—North Dakota contractors expect a prosperous season from the number of plans already out and the construction planned. The Mandan Construction & Building company, which is a new contracting firm, will operate largely in Morton, Mercer and Oliver counties.

The most pretentious school building for which estimates are now being sought is at Dickinson, where the bids will be opened April 3 for the completed building, also for materials and labor separately. Bids will be opened at Devils Lake April 10 for a new school and the contract for a $4,000 addition to the St. John school has just been let.

A large central market building will be constructed this season, and the grandstand and bleachers for the Northern league ball games will be erected in the Fargo college stadium soon.

Wahpeton Federal Building.

Bids for the new post office at Wahpeton will be opened May 6. Those recently submitted for the new post office at Minot were rejected as being too low.

Sidewalk and crosswalk construction is being advertised for by the city auditors in Dilworth, Fessenden and Valley.

The county auditors of Wells, Burleigh, Kidder, Traill, Logan and Benson counties have advertisements for road construction, masonry, concrete, wood and steel bridge approaches, metal culverts and other things of that nature.

The Town commissioners want bids for improving the heating plant in the courthouse at Cando. The town has a large city hall and it will be large enough to accommodate the fire department. The bond issue was endorsed by the voters.

The total cost of the $35,000 will be constructed at Devils Lake.

There are a number of towns in the central and northern parts of the state seeking the location of a $100,000 Fellows' building for the widows and orphans of members of that order. New Bedford, Gardner, Devils Lake and Minot are waging a warm campaign.

New hotels are being sought at Grafton, Lakota, Street and other towns.

An $18,000 Methodist church will be erected at Edgeley this summer.

Great elevators are to be constructed at Alexandria, Watford, Kielster and Willow City.

William Rosenbush and Wall & Waters are to erect a new business place at the Lake Motel.

The new business block at Williston to be erected for Mr. Vohs was recently awarded. It will cost $6,000.

PLANS MODEL FARM.

Hines Lumber Company Will Demonstrate Wisconsin's Soil Richness.

Coudray, Wis., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—The Edward Hines Lumber company will start an experiment station at Winter to demonstrate the productivity of the soil in this section. The model farm will be eight acres and adjoin Winter. Work is to be done in timber lands in the southern part of Sawyer county last year and is putting 10,000 acres of the cut-over lands on the market this year for actual settlers.

BUYING LANDS

IN CROW WING

Crookston, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—Northern Minnesota and Crow Wing county particularly, are developing rapidly and this season promises to be one of the best in the development of new lands and cultural lands. Because farmers from Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin these lands has stirred the citizens from southern sections and they are now seeing their share of good land in Northern Minnesota has to offer in the way of good land at low prices.

There are thousands of acres of these lands yet undeveloped in the northern section of the state and in Crow Wing county and it is only question of a short time before all of these lands will be bought up and developed.

TO BUILD ALTOONA LINE

Extension of Chippewa Valley Trolley System to Begin This Week.

Eau Claire, Wis., March 31.—Active work on the grading for the Altoona extension of the Chippewa Valley Electric railway will start during the present week, according to one of the officials of the company. The contract for the part of the extension which has been let to Guy Gardner of Elmwood, who already has teams on the scene, a force of men having been engaged in hauling dirt along the route of the new line. Mr. Gardner will turn his attention, force of men and teams to the grading this week and the same will be completed in about three weeks.

All of the material necessary for the construction of the new Altoona line has been purchased, including the steel, rails, ties, sleepers, etc., totaling requiring 500 tons. It is expected that the new line will be opened for traffic in about three months, depending to some extent upon weather conditions and the manner in which the material is received.

INDIAN SLAYS FATHER.

Red Lake Tribe Member to Be Tried in United States Court.

Bemidji, Minn., March 31.—Henry Funckley, who will defend Alexis Jourdan, the Red Lake Indian accused of the murder of his father, Captain Jourdan, who becomes case up for trial in Federal court at Bismarck Falls, said that the grand jury will act on the matter May 5. Jourdan acted on behalf of the Red Lake Indians and the maroon used for the past two seasons.

Thief River Falls.—According to recent authentic reports received from the Trading Post, Thief River Falls will be the home of a Son nursery.

The ground has already been purchased and will be quite an expensive affair to it, the president of the company to raise all of them that are used along their right-of-way.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—A United States attorney has reported favorable on the nomination of Joseph Doyle to be North Dakota marshal, according to word received here. The report practically gives Doyle confirmation.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald)—E. M. Phillips, a new school teacher of Minneapolis, associated with several prominent North Dakota educators, is making a tour of Grand Forks county, visiting various schools and rural school districts to promote the first of the series of meetings was held at Larimore.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Fargo, N. D.—Capt. Throackmorton, the personal representative of Mrs. Anna B. Johnson Booth, will speak at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening. The captain will talk of the work of Mrs. Booth in the slums of the city and of her work in the United States.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Judge Frank Park of the district court declined to accept the appointment of county commissioners of Ramsey county, in the suit brought by J. H. Bloom to compel the commissioners to bid for certain supplies.

Fargo, N. D.—Mrs. A. C. Gorman, aged 30, of Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, was building Sunday.

Mrs. Gorman arose early to add mass and was on her way home when death overtook her. She fell down the stairs in the hall of the building by friends and carried into a nearby flat. Her husband came from Red Deer to claim the body.

Bismarck, N. D.—The question of the constitutionality of the law that provides that the state may tax on their buildings from their own funds, will be submitted to the supreme court April 11, with arguments against the state auditing board, will be argued April 12.

FLASHES—Charged with perjury, making a second filing on a homestead, by swearing that he had not previously used his homestead rights, John Miller, of Devils Lake, was charged with perjury.

Brisbane, N. D.—Another new high price for calves was established yesterday. The price of $16.50 and yearlings sold as high as $16.50 and yearlings were classified at furnaces for poor stamp.

IRON MOUNTAIN.—There are three cases of snakebites here. To guard against further spread of the plague of several months, Mr. Joosten was born in Amsterdam, Holland, Aug. 1, 1849, and died in Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 1, 1913. He was educated in Amsterdam and came to America when 16 years of age, arriving here in 1869. He was a blacksmith and stonemason. The license question will be voted upon at the spring election next Tuesday. The time for filing petitions asking for a writ of habeas corpus will be midnight Saturday.

Eau Claire—The Duncan Market company has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, giving $20,000. The articles of incorporation are signed by C. H. Duncan and A. H. Shoemaker, all of Eau Claire. The articles declare that the purposes of the organization shall be the commission, storage, forwarding, shipping and transportation business.

series being played between the Ishpeming and Calumet ball clubs. The local tenth grade defeated the Ishpeming team, 23 to 11. The eighth grade defeated the Ishpeming—William Jenkins, who has represented the Fifth ward in the common council for a number of years, announced that he is not a candidate for re-election.

Calumet—The Upper Peninsula Boilermakers Association members have voted to meet next year in Marquette. Officers were elected as follows: President, Frank J. Jenkins; Margaret co-president; James T. Fisher; Laurium secretary and treasurer; Arvid Brandstad, Ishpeming.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Milwaukee—Mayor Badin can spend but little more in his election campaign. His expenditures to date have been $1,027.50 and, $1,323, or one-third of his first year's salary. He has received contributions amounting to $1,100, or more than his first year's salary.

Grand Rapids—The next convention of the Eighth district women's clubs of the Upper Peninsula Poultry association is to be held in Marchfield on May 5 and 6. There are thirteen clubs located in Grand Rapids, Stevens Point, Wausau and Wausau. It is expected that fully 500 members will attend the meeting extended by the Marshfield clubs.

Milwaukee—A clinical session of the Wisconsin Surgical Association, of which Dr. A. H. Levings, Milwaukee, is president, will be held in this city on May 22 to 24.

La Crosse—William Leonard Joosten, secretary-treasurer of the La Crosse Box company, is dead after an illness of several months. Mr. Joosten was born in Amsterdam, Holland, Aug. 1, 1849, and died in Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 1, 1913. He was educated in Amsterdam and came to America when 16 years of age, arriving here in 1869. He was a blacksmith and stonemason. The license question will be voted upon at the spring election next Tuesday. The time for filing petitions asking for a writ of habeas corpus will be midnight Saturday.

Eau Claire—The Duncan Market company has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, giving $20,000. The articles of incorporation are signed by C. H. Duncan and A. H. Shoemaker, all of Eau Claire. The articles declare that the purposes of the organization shall be the commission, storage, forwarding, shipping and transportation business.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The kind you have always bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Fletcher. All counterfeits, imitations and "just-as-good" are but experiments that trifles with and endangers the health of infants and children—experience against experiments.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and relieves Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulence, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

CHARACTER READING

The best way to read a merchant's business character is by his advertisement. Just run over today's Herald and note the business news.

Don't the "ads" pretty well reflect the houses as you know them?

One man is appealing for one kind of trade, and another for another kind, and each one is directly or indirectly writing his own business character into his advertisements.

Mighty interesting study, these advertisements! Mighty good guide for you to go by.

But what kind of character is the merchant writing who is not advertising?

Oh, he's not writing at all—he's courting—

Courting slowly but surely—

The sign for the sheriff's sale.
